Net Debt of Canada Reduced $2,634,356 During Last Month

Ordinary Revenue Showed Increase of $70,168,172 In Seven Months of Fiscal Year; Another Factor Was Practical Closing Up of War Accounts.

Ottawa, Nov. 4.—(Canadian Press)—Expanding revenues last month brought a reduction in the net national debt of $2,634,356. At the end of September the net debt (no credit being taken for non-active assets) stood at $2,276,516,163. During October it was reduced to $2,273,881,807, at which figure it now stands.

The bounding revenue coupled with a heavy reduction in capital expenditure, due to the practical closing up of war accounts, is regarded with keen satisfaction. During the seven months of the fiscal year ended October 31 last the ordinary revenue was $286,576,967, as compared with $186,408,795 in the preceding year, an increase of $70,168,172.

Total revenues collected in October alone were $26,671,056, compared with $27,223,254, or an increase of over $5,000,000.

Taxes.
The taxes imposed on sales and luxuries last session apparently are the money getters. They are included in Finance Department returns under the head of inland revenue and inland revenue last month was nine times what it was in October, 1919, the figures being: October, 1919, $1,045,703; October, 1920, $9,435,138. Income tax collections during the month were $712,092, in comparison with $272,691 in October, 1919, a heavy increase. Business profit taxes showed a decline of $200,000. Both customs and excise also showed light reductions.

Outlay.
Ordinary expenditure during the two-seven months of the fiscal year 1919-20 was $199,590,513; 1919-20, $159,049,406. Capital expenditure during the seven months was $21,804,572 in 1920 as compared with $20,154,045 in the corresponding period of 1919.

SALVADOR VOLCANO AGAIN IN ERUPTION

San Salvador, Republic of El Salvador, Nov. 3.—The volcano of Isleten, ten miles north of the city, has broken out in a new eruption. Great quantities of lava are being discharged.

MORE ELECTION FIGURES IN U. S.

Tennessee Swung Into Republican Column; Returns Disclose Other Facts

New York, Nov. 4.—Tennessee has swung into the swelling Republican column, shattering Democratic traditions of a "solid south," unofficial but early complete returns from the entire state showed to-day. Her shift from the Democratic ranks, coupled with a similar upset in Oklahoma reported last night, assured Warren G. Harding of 390 votes in the Electoral College as against 127 definitely in the James M. Cox column, and left in doubt only 14 seats in the Electoral College, divided among Arizona (three), Nevada (three), New Mexico (three), and North Dakota (five). In all of these states save New Mexico, Harding was in the lead on available returns, and even in New Mexico Republican managers were claiming a Harding plurality, though available returns showed a Cox lead.

Tennessee on the face of returns tabulated by the Memphis Commercial Appeal from 34 out of 95 counties, gave Harding 139,759 votes and Cox 108,752, a Harding plurality of 9,977. Governors Roberts, Danciger, was swept out on the Republican tide and A. Taylor, unsuccessful candidate for Governor against his brother in 1918, was elected.

Precedents Broken.
No further actual upsets were reported from the "solid south" and Louisiana and several counties in Georgia and Alabama broke precedents by piling up Harding pluralities.

The Republican Congressional sweep assumed larger proportions as belated returns continued to come in. The victory of Sen. D. Nicholson, Republican candidate for Senator in Colorado, assured President-elect Harding a majority of at least ten in the upper House, and of five states where state Presidential choice had not been determined, the Republican candidates were in the lead in four: Arizona, Oregon, Nevada and North Dakota. In the fifth, Kentucky, Republican leaders still clung to the hope that late returns would overcome the advantage held by Senator Beckham over R. P. Ernst, his Republican opponent.

The House.
The Republicans had secured 257 seats in the House of Representatives to 145 for the Democrats. Four seats went to miscellaneous including one Socialist and one Prohibitionist. Forty-two districts were unreported. On the latest returns the Republicans had a plurality of 331. D. Nicholson, Republican candidate for Senator in Colorado, assured President-elect Harding a majority of at least ten in the upper House, and of five states where state Presidential choice had not been determined, the Republican candidates were in the lead in four: Arizona, Oregon, Nevada and North Dakota. In the fifth, Kentucky, Republican leaders still clung to the hope that late returns would overcome the advantage held by Senator Beckham over R. P. Ernst, his Republican opponent.

AMERICANS TIRED OF WILSONISM

British Papers Express Views on Outcome of Election in United States

London, Nov. 4.—Commenting editorially on the United States election, The Morning Post compares President Wilson with Lenin. It says both are idealists with identical methods, though different aims, and thinks that rejection by the United States of such autocratic idealism will bring relief to the world.

"The people," adds the paper, "have decided not in favor of stringent and arrogant nationalism, but against prying and unworkable internationalism."

First Acts.
The Daily Telegraph says it does not doubt the new administration's first acts will be directed to clearing up the country's international position. National isolation, it asserts, is no longer possible with the United States, and as a creditor on a great scale the country has a direct and urgent concern for peace and good government in the rest of the world.

Moreover recent developments in scientific warfare have diminished to an extent which the United States was first to realize, the natural military security of the United States, and so give it a further active interest in the preservation of peace.

Tired of Wilsonism.
London, Nov. 4.—The leading British provincial newspapers consider the election of Senator Harding to the Presidency of the United States an indication that "the electorate is tired of what the journals call 'one man rule'."

REPRISALS FOR MURDER IN IRELAND

Uniformed Men Burned Buildings in Granard, County Longford, Last Night

Granard, County Longford, Ireland, Nov. 4.—Reprisals for the shooting and killing of District Inspector of Police Kelleher, which occurred on Sunday evening, were carried out here at midnight last night when eleven motor lorries filled with uniformed men invaded the town. Rifles were fired into houses and a dozen houses and business premises were burned. The buildings destroyed included the market house and hotel, valued at £75,000.

The inhabitants of Granard fought the flames and saved many other houses from destruction.

Relations With Europe Open New Era For Mexico

Paris, Nov. 4.—The special diplomatic mission of Felix P. Palavicini, owner of El Universal, of Mexico City, from the Mexican Government to various European Governments, has been finished, he announced to-day.

Senor Palavicini has arranged with the British Government to renew diplomatic relations with Mexico in December, when General Obregon assumes the Presidency of Mexico. Relations between the two countries have been interrupted since 1914.

In Belgium Senor Palavicini was received by King Albert, in Spain by King Alfonso, and in France by President Millerand.

As a result of Senor Palavicini's negotiations, the Spanish Government has decided to help the investment of Spanish capital in oil exportation from Mexico to Europe and South America. Italy also will establish a direct steamship line with Mexico and the Italian Government has authorized General Peppino Garibaldi, grandson of the former Italian patriot, to go to Mexico to return the visit of Senor Palavicini to Italy.

Mexico, Senor Palavicini said, has the friendship of all the European countries.

Good Relations.
"As the policy of Mexico toward the United States will be friendly," he continued, "the relations between Mexico and all the world outside will be very good in the future."

DAUPHIN CITIZENS HEAR LEADER KING

Railway Problems Dealt With by Liberal Leader in Manitoba Town

He Finds Liberals Who Joined Unionists Are Returning to Party

Dauphin, Man., Nov. 4.—Dauphin being an important railway centre, the bulk of the audience at the meeting held here last night by Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King was composed of workers in the roundhouse and shops of the Canadian National Railways. Mr. King dealt exhaustively with the railway problems with which the country is faced. He aroused the enthusiasm of his audience when he condemned in unmeasured tones the recent order issued prohibiting employees of the Government lines from taking an active part in politics. The member of the local House for Dauphin, George H. Palmer, is a train dispatcher on the railway and anticipates an order to resign his seat or his job under Mr. Hanna's ruling.

Unionist Liberals.
Mr. King also spoke at some length upon the position of the Unionist Liberals at the last election. He said he could not make it too clear that so far as the great body of electors (Concluded on page 2.)

BRITAIN REPLIES TO THE SOVIET

Does Not Intend Soviet Submarines to Torpedo Ships "By Mistake"

London, Nov. 3.—Replying to the Russian Soviet Government's recent note concerning the operation of submarines by the Soviet navy, Earl Curzon, Secretary for Foreign Affairs, says the British Government's belief in the proposed aggressive action of the submarines was based on a Soviet Minister's statement when the submarines were launched in the Black Sea that he hoped would sink Entente vessels.

The British Government, he adds, did not feel justified in running any risk and now has found its fears confirmed by the Soviet note, which would permit of a Soviet submarine torpedoing a British ship under the excuse of mistaken identity.

The note asserts that the Soviet forces in the Black Sea are still engaged in open hostilities against Entente vessels.

The British Government can end this situation by giving the assurances called for in the British note of October 9.

HON. GEORGE FOWLDS TO VISIT NEXT WEEK

Former New Zealand Minister and Well-known Single Taxer En Route Home

Hon. George Fowlds, C.B.E., former Minister of the New Zealand Government and long member of the House of Representatives in that Dominion, will be the guest of the Henry George Association here to a luncheon on November 19.

Mr. Fowlds passed through Victoria from Auckland on August 18, en route on a single tax tour of parts of the Dominion. Since that time he has spent a considerable time discussing the theories of Henry George, particularly in California, and will arrive from Portland next week, his expectation to reach here on Tuesday next.

Mr. Fowlds is an excellent speaker, as those who heard him here some years ago will well remember.

Mr. Fowlds is on his way to Vancouver to join the next outbound Australian steamer for Auckland.

EXTREMISTS OF FRENCH SOCIALIST PARTY WANT ACTION

Paris, Nov. 4.—Socialist extremists will submit at the next Socialist Congress to be held at Tours next month a resolution declaring open war on parliamentarism and syndicalism, according to Socialist newspapers. They will urge, it is stated, a revolutionary struggle for the purpose of taking over power.

Livestock in Dominion Now Showing a Decrease

Ottawa, Nov. 4.—(Canadian Press)—With the single exception of sheep, the numbers of all descriptions of farm livestock in Canada show a marked decrease this year as compared with last. The Dominion Bureau of Statistics has issued a report showing the number of each description of farm livestock in Canada on June 15 last, as estimated from returns obtained by the Bureau from individual farmers throughout Canada in conjunction with the Provincial Governments.

MOST OF SCOTLAND WILL REMAIN "WET"

149 Districts Voted For No Change; Only Eighteen Voted "Dry"

London, Nov. 4.—(Canadian Associated Press)—The latest summary of the voting in Scotland on the liquor question shows that 149 districts have decided to make no change, 24 favor reduction of licenses and 18 will go "dry."

An earlier dispatch than the above said that in Glasgow four wards had voted dry, nine for limited licenses and twenty-four for no change. It was stated that 94 licenses would be cancelled throughout the city out of a total of 1,400.

The dry wards were: Whiteinch, Cathcart, Pollokshields and Camphill.

In Dennistoun, prohibition was defeated by four votes. Practically all the working class areas voted "wet," and also the central city district.

Aberdeen voted "wet" two to one. Other towns voting no change were: Hawick, Dalkeith, Auchtermuchty, Falkland, Arbroath, Montrose, Tayport, Kirriemuir, St. Andrews, Alloa, Girvan and Stonehaven.

COAL SITUATION STILL IS WATCHED

British Press Writers Inclined to Doubt Permanency of Settlement

London, Nov. 4.—(Canadian Associated Press)—Commentators on the coal strike settlement almost doubt its permanency in its present state. Its terms are too complicated for discussion in a cable dispatch, but it can be said that expert opinion shows nervousness because of the increase in the output which the Government insists is the country's crying need. Final figures of the ballot, showing as they did an actual majority against settlement, have given cause for quiet. The Miners' Federation executive, however, took the responsibility for calling off the strike, several members declaring that the men would return to work willingly.

The Times sees this much good in the strike—that it has cleared the air and shows many suspicions held, but also ideas to be too sweeping. Nevertheless the Times, with other newspapers, betrays a note of fear that the extremists have not been finally dealt with, although there may be peace for some little while.

SEATTLE MAN SAYS WIFE CRUEL; ASKS A DIVORCE

Seattle, Nov. 4.—With the representation that he was "weak, in poor health and in great fear of his wife," August Nordling, an elevator operator, obtained a divorce here yesterday in conjunction with his suit for divorce, a temporary restraining order against his wife, Margaret Nordling, which prohibits her from repeating alleged beatings of her husband.

Nordling seeks divorce on grounds of cruelty.

ABBOTT KINNEY DIES IN CALIFORNIA

Venice, Calif., Nov. 4.—Abbott Kinney, founder of this seaside city, author and citrus culturist, died here to-day aged seventy.

PLOT TO ATTACK JAPANESE OFFICERS BROUGHT TO LIGHT

Tokio, Nov. 4.—Dispatches from Fukuoka, on the northwest coast of Kiu Shiu Island, report the discovery of a plot to attack high personages during the forthcoming annual army manoeuvres. Ten Koreans were arrested there on a charge that they were in the possession of bombs.

NEW DRUG ORDERS MOST STRINGENT

Selling of Harmful Compounds in Medicines Further Regulated

Vendors of Patent Medicines Are Warned to Look to Manufacturers

Consumption of drugs in Canada is being cut down by the amendments to the drug act brought into force this year, according to Dr. Henry Esmon Young, chairman of the Provincial Board of Health, who has just returned from the Dominion health conference at Ottawa.

A summary of the new regulations brought here by Dr. Young show these new requirements:

1. Opium and derivatives are forbidden in medicines for internal use.
2. Cocaine and its salts or preparations must not be present in any proprietary or patent medicine.
3. The content of alcohol is limited.
4. The presence of scheduled drugs must be declared on the label.
5. Drugs must be designated by their commonly used name. For example, acetanilide must not be called phenylacetamide; nor strychnine be spoken of as nuxvomica.
6. No patent medicine shall be labelled as a cure for any disease.
7. No false, misleading or exaggerated claims shall be made on the label or wrapper.
8. Certain derivatives of coal-tar are forbidden in infant remedies.

CABINET MINISTERS COMING FOR MEETING

Premier Issues Call For a Session Here Next Tuesday

Premier Oliver will return to Victoria by next Tuesday, from his speaking tour of the Interior.

To-day the Premier telegraphed calling a meeting of the Provincial executive in his office at the Parliament Buildings Tuesday morning. At least five members of the Government will be here for the meeting.

The Hon. J. D. King, Minister of the Interior, who is touring the Interior with the Premier, is expected back on Saturday. The Hon. J. W. de B. Farris, Attorney-General, the Hon. William Sloan, Minister of Mines and the Hon. E. D. Barrow, Minister of Agriculture, will come from Vancouver and Nanaimo at the end of this week.

It is not yet known when the Hon. J. D. MacLean, Provincial Secretary, will return. He has been spending some time in Greenwood, his constituency. The Hon. T. D. Pattullo, Minister of Lands, is not expected back from the North for several days.

WRANGLER'S MEN HOLD FRENCH LINE

Bolshevik Troops Continue Battering in Attempt to Overrun Crimea

Sebastopol, Nov. 3.—Russian Bolshevik troops are unsuccessfully attacking General Baron Wrangel's army south of Perekop. The Soviet army is battering at the seven-mile trench system known to the Crimean peninsula, but General Wrangel's position is strong. It has on its left the Gulf of Perekop and on its right the Gulf of Sivash, or Perekop Sound.

Perekop, which has been occupied by the Bolsheviks, is a mass of ruins.

Cavalry Fighting.
Sebastopol, Nov. 3.—General Wrangel's cavalry is still engaged in an attempt to stem the tide of the Bolshevik offensive in Southern Russia. Red aeroplanes are bombing the narrow railway trestle running from Perekop into the Crimea.

Second, sixth and thirteenth armies are in the line, in addition to four divisions of cavalry and other corps of the best of the Red troops.

If General Wrangel is able to hold off the Bolsheviks at the Perekop line he has food enough to last him throughout the winter.

Bolshevik Report.
London, Nov. 4.—Further advances by the Bolshevik forces in their offensive against General Wrangel's troops in Southern Russia are reported in Wednesday's statement from the Soviet War Office in Moscow. It says: "In the Crimea sector we are continuing to drive the enemy back, who is retreating to the peninsula, fighting fiercely."

GOLD TO STATES

New York, Nov. 4.—The steamship Olympic arrived yesterday from Southampton with 482 boxes of gold from the Bank of England, valued at $14,000,000, about $3,500,000 of it consigned to the Federal Reserve Bank. The J. P. Morgan Company also received 147 boxes of the shipment.

Many Candidates Are Already In Field For Election

Local Situation Shows Little Change; Kootenay Ridings Select Candidates; David Whiteside Again Agrees to Run in Royal City.

There have been so many applicants for membership in the Liberal party during the past few days and so great a demand for tickets to the nominating convention that the executive of the Victoria Liberal Association has been compelled to secure a larger hall, and has obtained the ballroom of the Alexandra Club for Monday's convention, cancelling the original plan of holding the gathering in the Crystal Theatre.

It was announced this morning that supporters of Lieut.-Col. W. N. Winsby had definitely withdrawn his name from nomination, on account of opposition on the part of some trustees to his taking part in the contest. Before Col. Winsby's name was used his supporters made careful inquiry as to any possible legal impediments to his entering the field and found there were none.

At to-night's Conservative convention at the Alexandra Club there will be at least two ladies in the running for places on the ticket, these being Mrs. Bertha Andrews and Mrs. Condy-Johnson. In addition the names of C. T. Cross, J. W. Connell and Canon Hinchcliffe will be submitted, in addition to those already named.

Invalid Soldiers' Votes.
At last night's meeting of the Liberal Executive it was decided to ask the Government to place polling booths in all the hospitals, or else make arrangements for securing the votes of both returned soldier and civilian invalids. It was recognized that the protest voiced by returned soldiers when the prohibition referendum was being taken was based on excellent grounds.

Ward five voters will hold the first ward meeting in the Board room of the Belmont Block on November 19, this being the only ward meeting in the city to be held upon. It is expected that the majority of the other ward gatherings will be held in the schools, and the names of all the school board will not be available until the next session, to be held next week.

Obtain Headquarters.
The Soldier-Labor party have secured committee rooms at 1204 Government Street, and have called a meeting of all party members to aid in forming a campaign organization to take place in the new quarters at 8 o'clock on Tuesday evening.

Equilateral Liberals.
The Liberal nominating Convention for Esquimalt Riding has been changed as to place and date. Instead of taking place this evening in the Soldiers' Club at Esquimalt, the gathering will take place at Colwood Hall on Saturday evening at 8 o'clock, when it is certain that the names of E. C. Holmstrom and C. Whitney Griffiths will be discussed.

Back Oliver Government.
The attitude of Mr. Griffiths to this morning stated to The Times to be as follows:

"In reply to inquiries as to what my attitude will be at the Liberal Convention on Saturday next, let me say my name will go before the meeting, provided an agreement is reached as to the agricultural policy of the farmer's candidates, as the preponderant industry of this riding. I shall not be an independent candidate in the event of the meeting being held at Esquimalt, but will be more fully represented at the meeting, and I trust to the satisfaction of all."

The party is making inquiries as to available former co-operation for Esquimalt Riding, and are considering backing any such candidate who will accept the Soldier-Labor platform. It is probable that a convention will be called early next week in order that suitable action may be arranged.

Cowichan.
It is expected that the city Soldier-Labor headquarters that by Saturday the Cowichan situation will be so clarified as to make certain whether or not a tri-partite combination of Soldier-Labor-Farmer interests will have a candidate in competition with Kenneth Duncan, Independent Soldier, and G. A. Cheske, Conservative candidate. The Duncan unit of the Grand Army of United Veterans is (Concluded on page 4.)

PRUSSIAN TROOPS LITHUANIAN TROOPS

Irregular Polish Troops Checked Along Entire Front, Says Dispatch

Riga, Nov. 3.—Offensive operations by irregular Polish troops commanded by General Pruski have been checked along the entire front by the Lithuanians during the past few days and as a result the occupation of Kovno has been postponed. Hard fighting took place on the line between Vilna and Kovno.

Reports from Kovno attribute the Lithuanian successes to the assistance given by Prussians. While it is declared, have crossed the frontier with their arms and ammunition.

TIME TABLE OF POLITICAL EVENTS

Thursday, Nov. 4.—City Conservative nomination.
Nov. 4.—Newcastle Conservative nomination, Ladysmith.
Nov. 5.—Islands Liberal nomination, St. Mark's Hall.
Nov. 6.—Islands Independent nomination, Ganges.
Nov. 6.—Esquimalt Liberal nomination, Colwood Hall.
Monday, Nov. 8.—Liberal city nominating convention.
Tuesday, Nov. 9.—Soldier-Labor candidates' organization meeting, 1208 Government Street.

MAKING DECISION ON ICE CREAM

Railway Board Will Rule Whether It Is Food or Luxury

Ottawa, Nov. 4.—(Canadian Press)—Whether ice cream should be classified as a food or a luxury is a problem that is engaging the attention of the Board of Railway Commissioners. The problem arises out of an application made by D'Arcy Scott, secretary of the Dairywomen's Council of Canada, for an order under which ice cream would be shipped by the express companies as a second class commodity instead of a first.

Premier in Delta.
Cloverdale, Nov. 4.—Hon. John Oliver was unanimously endorsed as the Liberal candidate for Delta Riding at the Liberal convention held here yesterday afternoon. M. A. Macdonald, K.C., of Vancouver, and G. E. Frith, of Cloverdale, were speakers at the meeting. The nomination received an enthusiastic endorsement.

Fernie, B. C. Nov. 4.—Premier Oliver has wired accepting the nomination for Delta.

605,000 TONS OF WHEAT IN CHILE

Santiago, Chile, Nov. 4.—The Chilean wheat yield for 1920 was 605,000 tons, an increase of 53,000 tons over 1919. It was announced here to-day. The acreage sown was 1,290,000 acres. Home consumption will be 574,000 tons, it is estimated.

U.S. Effort For Embargo on Canadian Wheat Futile

New York, Nov. 4.—(Canadian Press)—The movement on foot in the United States to have an embargo placed on Canadian wheat imports as a medium of increasing the domestic price of wheat received adverse comment in The World this morning. The newspaper said:

"It must be assumed that in appealing to Washington for an embargo on imports of wheat from Canada, the Chicago Board of Trade is animated by the purely altruistic purpose of helping the growers of Kansas and round-about to corner wheat and boost the farm price and profit rather than of helping itself to an old-time corner for the benefit of its own crowd."

"Nevertheless the utter futility of this embargo effort ought to be as apparent to the Kansas farmer as it must to the Chicago speculator. This country is still a producer of wheat beyond its own needs. The price is accordingly fixed not at home but in the outside markets, where the exportable surplus goes. Canada this year has grown a wheat crop so large as to leave over 100,000,000 bushels for export and this surplus will directly or indirectly fall on the Liverpool wheat market and affect the price for United States as well."

No Effect.
"Such an embargo as is asked for could have no more effect in raising the Kansas or Chicago price of wheat than the damming up of Behring Strait could raise or lower the depth of the Arctic or Pacific Ocean."

"The Federal Trade Commission is solemnly at work on statistics on Canadian wheat imports in response to the embargo appeals of the Chicago Board of Trade. The Commission should be able to find more useful ways of employing its time."

DENMAN NOW FEELS FINER THAN IN YEARS

Vancouver Man Despaired of Ever Finding Relief; Improvement Since Taking Tanlac Has Been Wonderful.

"Well, sir, if I should be asked to name the best medicine I've ever run across I wouldn't hesitate to say Tanlac, and I'll tell you the reason why," said George Denman, of 2487 Laurel Street, Vancouver, B. C., well-known hospital attendant, in relating his experience with the medicine recently.

"Before Tanlac put an end to my suffering, I was so badly affected by catarrh of the stomach that I almost despaired of ever finding anything that would give me relief. My appetite was so poor I didn't relish my food. I was troubled a great deal with bloating, and had a disagreeable taste in my mouth almost continually. I was worried constantly with constipation, and I was nervous that the least little thing would annoy me, and had sharp shooting pains all through my body."

"I read a statement in the papers one day about Tanlac that was so earnest and sincere that I made up my mind to try the medicine, and it has proven so fine in my case that I don't hesitate to recommend it to others. Why, my appetite is so good and everything agrees with me so well that I've already gained eight pounds in weight. My nerves are steady, and I'm feeling better in every way than I have in years. Tanlac is a great medicine, and I'm mighty thankful for what it's done for me."

Tanlac is sold in Victoria by D. E. Campbell, corner of Fort and Douglas, and Lang's Drug Store, Esquimalt Road.

SENTIMENT AGAINST CATTLE EMBARGO

Live Canadian Cattle Barred From Britain, But Opinion Is Growing

Ottawa, Nov. 4.—(Canadian Press). Dr. J. H. Girdale, Deputy Minister of Agriculture, stated in an interview that he had read with much interest and much pleasure an editorial in a Montreal paper on the British embargo on Canadian cattle.

"This editorial summarizes the situation exceedingly well and not only epitomizes the history of the embargo, extending as it does over the last thirty years, but it seems to me to put these present status of the affair in a nutshell. Then it declares that it is a case of pure protection not for one class merely, but for one part of one class as against all the rest of the population of the British Isles. This, of course, is quite legitimate if the British consumers wish to stand for it, but what does not seem fair to us is for the Secretary of Agriculture to bring up again the accusation of ill-health in Canadian herds, as he does when he states that it is still necessary to maintain this embargo for the protection of the British flocks and herds against insidious diseases that might possibly come from Canada."

Sentiment Grows.

"We are quite closely in touch with what is happening on the other side in connection with this embargo and feel that there is a strong sentiment spreading fairly rapidly through the meat-consuming class against the maintenance of this embargo on the importation of Canadian stockers into the British market for fattening on the British pastures or in the British feeding pens."

SYLVIA PANKHURST NOW OUT ON BAIL

London, Nov. 4.—Sylvia Pankhurst, who on October 28 was sentenced to six months' imprisonment on being adjudged guilty of attempting to cause sedition in the navy, was released yesterday on £2,000 bail, pending an appeal.

She signed an understanding to sever her connections with the newspaper War's Dreadnought, in which an article entitled "Discontent on the Lower Deck" figured against her. The understanding also pledged her to refrain from attending public meetings pending the hearing of the case in January.

LABOR CANDIDATES.

Winnipeg, Nov. 4.—J. Farmer, who unsuccessfully contested the mayoralty last year, is again the candidate of the Labor Party, defeating A. W. Putee by a close vote in the nominations. A full slate of aldermanic and school trustees candidates also was chosen.

VICE-PRESIDENT-ELECT OF U.S.; C. COOLIDGE

OPPOSITION MAN ON MEIGHEN'S PLATFORM

Perfection, B. C., Nov. 4.—At the invitation of Premier Meighen, Col. C. E. Edgett, candidate in the Yale by-election endorsed by the Opposition, was on the platform at the Meighen meeting here last night.

"Col. Edgett," said Mr. Meighen, "is on the platform at my express invitation. I was anxious to hear what he had to say. If you send to Ottawa a man whose duty it is to vote us out of office on the first vote of confidence, it will place a government in control which has declared for free fruit."

H. H. Stevens, M. P. for Vancouver, said he was disappointed that Mr. Edgett had let himself be inveigled into such an "awful mess."

Mr. Edgett said, in response to a query: "The farmers have not drawn up a platform as yet. By the farmers endorsing my platform it does not say that I have to endorse Mr. Cramer or Mackenzie King, or any other of those people. If any faction in the country wishes to endorse me, whether black or white, if interested in the affairs of this country, thinking I am worthy, that does not say I have to endorse any policy they have lived up to in the past."

Hon. J. A. Calder, who is suffering from a severe cold, made his first address since the election of the Government in the House of Commons.

U. S.-JAPANESE NEGOTIATIONS GO ON

Washington, Nov. 4.—Adoption by the California legislature of the referendum measure restricting the right of aliens to lease or hold real property in that state, it has been learned, will not affect continuance of negotiations here between the Japanese Ambassador and the State Department as to the status of Japanese immigration. The heavy majority in favor of the restricting measure, it was said, had been fully disappointed in advance, and negotiations have made such progress that should a treaty result, it may reach the Senate during the winter session.

The temporary absence from Washington of Ambassador Morris, who has been conducting for the State Department the discussions with Ambassador Shidehara, it was said, had only partially delayed negotiations. They will be resumed fully on the return of Mr. Morris.

UNITED STATES AND LEAGUE OF NATIONS

Calgary, Nov. 3.—Of the election of Harding as President of the United States The Calgary Herald says:

"The result was not unexpected, nor does the election of a Republican President mean nearly as much as one might have been led to expect from the oratory of the election campaign with respect to international relations. More or less prominently throughout the campaign the League of Nations issue was discussed."

It is to be assumed that the people of the United States who voted Harding into office are generally disposed to take a share of the world burden along with Britain, France, Italy and the rest. There may be some more talk, but in the end The Herald believes the United States will join the League of Nations company."

HEADACHES

Make Life Miserable.

Headaches are one of the most aggravating troubles one can have, and it is hard to struggle along with a head that aches and pains all the time.

Headaches seem to be habitual with many people; some are seldom, if ever, free from them, suffering continually from the dull throbbings, the intense pains, sometimes in one part, sometimes in another, and then again over the whole head.

There is only one way to get relief from these persistent headaches, and that is by going direct to the seat of the trouble, for unless the cause is removed, the headaches will still continue to exist.

The fact that Burdock Blood Bitters keep the stomach, liver and bowels toned up is proof enough to show that it will eliminate the cause of the headaches.

Mrs. Harold Laman, Owen Sound, Ont., writes:—"My system was run down and my blood out of order. I suffered a great deal from severe pains in my head, which made me feel very miserable. After having tried other remedies I purchased a bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters, and was very glad to notice a decided improvement in my health, so I took another and am glad to say that it has done me an enormous amount of good. I have recommended it to my friends, who were in a similar condition, and they all say it is a wonderful remedy."

GERMAN COMMENTS ON U. S. ELECTION

Berlin, Nov. 4.—Of the United States election The Lokal Anzeiger says: "We have got rid of Wilson, who in the last analysis was to blame for our misfortune. Mr. Harding will play politics and mix in world affairs only so far as they concern the interests of the United States."

The Zeitung Am Mittag says: "It would be premature to regard the end of the Wilson era too optimistically."

The Vossische Zeitung says: "It is not Harding's victory or Cox's defeat, but the complete disavowal of Wilson. Germany's chief interest turns on Mr. Harding's campaign utterances favoring the quickest possible re-establishment of peace-time relations between Germany and the United States."

The Vorwarts thinks it advisable to await President-Elect Harding's message to Congress for an indication of his position toward the treaty and his attitude toward Middle Europe.

Count von Bernstorff, the former German Ambassador at Washington, writing in The Acht Uhr Abendblatt, thinks that in favoring The Hague tribunal and improvement of the League, Senator Harding has broken away from the policy of complete isolation of the United States.

The Tageblatt says: "If to-day we shake hands in spirit with President-Elect Harding across the sea it is because we see in him a man who can quickly bring us peace with union, and who has vision and the desire for a better League of Nations."

GAS IN THE STOMACH IS DANGEROUS

Recommends Daily Use of Magnesia to Overcome Trouble Caused by Fermenting Food and Acid Indigestion.

Gas and wind in the stomach accompanied by that full, bloated feeling after eating are almost certain evidence of the presence of excessive hydrochloric acid in the stomach, creating so-called "acid indigestion."

Acid stomachs are dangerous because too much acid irritates the delicate lining of the stomach, often leading to gastritis—accompanied by serious stomach ulcers. Food ferments and sours, creating the distressing gas which distends the stomach and hampers the normal functions of the vital internal organs, often affecting the heart.

It is the worst of folly to neglect such a serious condition or to treat with ordinary digestive aids which have no neutralizing effect on the stomach acids. Instead get from any druggist a few ounces of Epsom's Magnesia and take a teaspoonful in a quarter glass of water right after eating. This will drive the gas, wind and food right out of the body, sweeten the stomach, neutralize the excess acid and prevent its formation and there is no sourness or pain. Epsom's Magnesia (in powder or tablet form—never liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and the best form of relief for stomach troubles. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion.

HANNA STANDS BY RAILWAY ORDER

Toronto, Nov. 4.—Speaking at a banquet of the Canadian Traffic Club League here last night, Mr. Hanna, president of the Canadian National Railways, reiterated his recent pronouncement against employees of the system running for political office. He said:

"A great amount of criticism has been levelled at me because I will not permit employees in the service of the Canadian National to accept nominations for Parliament. There has been no attempt on my part to prevent an employee exercising his franchise as a citizen, but when he decides to become a politician the whole country is open to him. We employ men to work and not for the purpose of a divided interest. It is not practicable, and as the question has been camouflaged, so many people saying that the liberty of the employees has been usurped, you can readily see the foolishness of it. As long as I have the power to say, and the board of directors backs me up, we will not permit politics to interfere with the operations of the Canadian National or the Canadian Mercantile Marine."

DAVIDSON FUNERAL AT LADYSMITH

MAYOR OF WINNIPEG AND OTHERS HAD RAILWAY MISHAP

The rate of thirty-five miles an hour, a gas car on the Hudson Bay Railway carrying Mayor Gray, of Winnipeg, and four others ran into a spread rail on Tuesday, throwing the occupants in all directions. Severely bruised, the party arrived here last night with the account of their mishap. Professor Delury, of Manitoba University, found his spectacles hanging on a limb of a tree twenty yards from where he lay. Joseph Myers, W. H. Makover, and John Wanless were the other passengers, and they say it was providential that all escaped with their lives.

A Bachelor's CAKE RECIPE

This recipe is good. One of our office men had his wife try it. All of the staff have asked for another one like it.

Cream $\frac{1}{4}$ cup of butter, add $\frac{1}{2}$ cup of sugar gradually, and one egg well beaten; mix $\frac{1}{4}$ tea-spoons of baking powder into $\frac{1}{4}$ cups flour; dilute $\frac{1}{4}$ cup Pacific Milk with $\frac{1}{4}$ cup water. Alternately add a little of the flour and a little of the milk to the egg mixture. Bake in layer cake pans about 30 minutes and put icing between.

H. C. Helgesen Puts Welfare of Liberalism Before Personal Point of View

Metchosin, Nov. 4.—Local Liberals met last night at the hall here at an open meeting. A splendid working committee was formed and delegates were appointed to attend the Liberal nominating convention on Saturday at Colwood Hall. H. C. Helgesen addressed the meeting and stated that he had been approached by various well-known people to stand as a possible candidate at the coming election. Mr. Helgesen, therefore, said he would come before the delegates at the convention at Colwood and asked for a nomination, saying that if he failed to secure the nomination then he was ready to take off his coat and help the man who succeeded. The meeting was well attended and extremely cordial.

WANT GOVERNMENT TO RELEASE GREATER PORTION OF TAXES

Civic Aid From Government
Taxation Strongly Backed
by Real Estate Exchange

The members of the Real Estate Exchange have pledged themselves to get behind the city in a strong campaign for a greater division of taxes collected by the Government, for return to the coffers of the municipality. The Real Estate Exchange is to call a general meeting of the taxpayers of the city of Victoria to discuss the project, and is exerting every effort to have a resolution moved by Mr. Landsberg brought into effect by the extraction of binding promises from political nominees awaiting the polls, as promised at the regular meeting on Friday.

The resolution submitted by F. Landsberg, as re-drafted by a special committee, was then moved by J. Musgrave, seconded by Mr. Lethaby, and passed unanimously, as follows:

Whereas the Real Estate Exchange is the only organized body representing the property owners and taxpayers of the City of Victoria, and vicinity, and have their welfare at heart; And whereas the major portion of the taxes of the City of Victoria are paid by the property owners only; And whereas there is a considerable proportion of the population which contributes little or nothing to the cost of services, such as fire, police, etc., the fire department alone costing the city $150,000 per annum, although benefiting by them:

Pressure on Taxpayers. And whereas the property owners in the cities and municipalities pay (either through the local improvement or general taxes), for schools, street paving, cement walks, boulevards, cluster lights, etc., the advantages of which are enjoyed by all;

And whereas at the recent tax sales held by the city, approximately one-eighth of the total assessed value of the property reverted to the city, proving that property owners are unable to bear the burden of taxation;

Therefore, be it resolved, that the Victoria Real Estate Exchange hereby pledge itself to support the City of Victoria and other municipalities of the Province in their endeavors to secure a share of the revenue derived by the Province on taxes originating and collected within the municipalities and retained by the Government, and will endeavor to secure the pledge of all candidates at the forthcoming Provincial election to support the just demands of the municipalities;

And it is further resolved that a copy of this resolution be sent to the Mayor and Council of the City of Victoria, and the City of Vancouver and the Real Estate Exchange of Vancouver.

As to increased revenue.

After discussion resolutions were passed confirming the following recommendations whereby the city should derive increased revenue:

1. That the Government be asked to give the city 50 per cent. of the license of all private owned automobiles driven in the City of Victoria and 40 per cent. of all heavy trucks and automobiles running for hire, or as an alternative, give the city power to levy a special tax on same.

2. That the Government be requested to divide the amusement taxes collected within the city equally with the city.

3. That the Government take measures to collect personal property taxes within the city limits, and divide the proceeds equally with the city.

4. That the Government be requested to divide the profits made by the selling of liquor within the city equally with the city.

5. That the city obtain the power to levy a poll tax of $5 on every person, eighteen years old and over, living or doing business in the city, exempting all persons who pay a real estate tax to the city.

A resolution was then moved by Mr. Landsberg and seconded by Mr. McMoran, of the B. C. Land & Investment Agency, Limited, that the recommendations as set out in resolutions one to five, be adopted as a whole and a copy be forwarded accompanying the resolution moved by Mr. Musgrave and seconded by Mr. Lethaby, to the Mayor and Council of the City of Victoria and Vancouver, as well as to the Real Estate Exchange of Vancouver.

It was further moved by Mr. Landsberg, and seconded by Mr. Cook (Leeming Bros., Ltd.), and carried unanimously: "That the president of this association be requested to call a meeting of the taxpayers of the City of Victoria in some suitable and convenient place immediately after the conference of the representatives of the city and municipalities, to be held in Victoria on or about November 10, and ask them to endorse the Real Estate Exchange in bringing recommendations for increased city revenue to a successful issue."

STOP CATARRH! OPEN NOSTRILS AND HEAD

Says Cream Applied in Nostrils
Relieves Head-Colds at Once.

If your nostrils are clogged and your head is stuffed and you can't breathe freely because of a cold or catarrh, just get a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm at any drug store. Apply a little of this fragrant, antiseptic cream into your nostrils and let it permeate through every air passage of your head, soothing and healing the irritated, swollen mucous membrane and you get instant relief.

Ah! how good it feels. Your nostrils are open, your head is clear, no more hacking, snuffling, blowing, no more headache, dryness or struggling for breath. Ely's Cream Balm is just what sufferers from head colds and catarrh need. It's a delight.

"I always aim to tell the truth," remarked the man who talks twice and thinks once. "You remind me of a friend, 'but you remind me of a woman in that respect.' How's that?" queried the party of the prelude. "You remind me of what you aim at," was the reply.

FINE ADVERTISING FOR THE DOMINION

Bankers' Trust Company Publishes a Book in New York

New York, Nov. 4.—(Canadian Press)—"The best advertising Canada has had in years," was the way in which a Canadian business man now resident here, summarized a book on the Dominion which has just been published by the Bankers' Trust Company.

The book, which is intended for circulation among the leading business and financial men of the United States, contains information regarding Canada which is of particular interest to United States investors and presents in a very clear and convincing way Canada possibilities as a field for investment. It is a volume of 174 pages, bound in boards, and is attractively printed. The object of the book is set forth in the opening chapter, which states that it was prepared "with the purpose of giving American business men a more intimate knowledge of our northern neighbor and thus strengthening the bonds between us and increasing the interchange of business to the mutual advancement of the two countries."

Canada's Position
Canada's position in the world of commerce is briefly sketched in this introductory chapter as follows:

"As an evidence of Canada's phenomenal development the latest available figures indicate that the Dominion in relation to nine other industrial countries now stands first in area, second in potential water power, third in total railway mileage, fifth in total exports, sixth in pig iron production and foreign trade, and eighth in population."

Friendship
"The friendship between the Canadian people and ourselves is traditional," continues the writer, Harvey E. Plisk. "Canada interchanges more business with us than any other nation, not excepting the United Kingdom. We have only one greater customer and that is the United Kingdom. Our friendship and our intellectual and business interests come together more and more. Her friendship and her business will be increasingly worth while. We have nothing to fear from her efforts to develop her resources and her manufacturing enterprises. Such development will only increase her need for greater quantities of goods from outside and her ability to pay for them. As our nearest and most convenient market we will have only ourselves to blame if we do not hold our present trade more closely but also immeasurably thereto."

Expansion
A chapter is devoted to Canada's achievement during the war, the Government's war financing, war industries in the Dominion, and Canada's trade under war conditions. "Everything points to a healthy and growing trade situation on a much higher level than that of the pre-war period," the writer declares, "and with a readjustment in the relative importance of the various products where, while the actual volume of agricultural and animal products will increase rather than diminish, their proportionate value will decrease because of the growing importance of the products of the mine, the forest, and of manufactures."

Investments
Regarding United States investments in Canada, the book says:

"Not only has manufacturing by Canadians for Canadians and for export been greatly stimulated by the war conditions, but these same conditions have attracted to Canada large amounts of American capital to be similarly employed. It is estimated that our people to-day have invested in Canada upwards of $1,250,000,000 as against about one-fifth of this amount in 1914."

AMERICANS TIRED OF WILSONISM

The Liverpool Post says: "Senator Harding goes to the White House as the representative of a profound belief, long maturing among the larger part of the nation, that Wilsonism is alien to American traditions and that the United States would not entangle herself in the affairs of distracted Europe."

This newspaper expresses the opinion that the election of Senator Harding does not mean antagonism to the League of Nations and believes that "America is seeking to her heart of hearts for some method of achieving the august purpose of the covenant which she can approve without misgiving."

Illusions Lost.
The Yorkshire Post considers it a good thing that the people have elected the candidate they did. "Senator Harding's aim, at least, is already defined; he wishes to help the world so far as he can honorably do so with the approval of Congress."

and without compromising American interests," says the newspaper. "We believe we interpret European as well as British opinion," it adds, "when we say that an American Government which stands for its own country first, last and for all time will be understood and appreciated in this old world of ours which has lost its illusions and is no longer in a mood to strain after visionary politics."

Dislike of Wilsonism.
The Manchester Guardian says: "The main political motive for the electors' choice is, by general assent, accumulated dislike of Wilsonism and not love of Harding and his party."

The national reputation marks a tragic change from those weeks in the Autumn of 1918 when the material power of the United States was deciding the world war and her foremost mind was leading the world to-

French Comments.
Paris, Nov. 4.—Newspapers of this city give great prominence to reports of the election in the United States. In their comments, the newspapers declare the election of Senator Harding was a triumph, give praise to his personality and recall he has always asserted great sympathy for France.

Hope is expressed by The Echo de Paris that "the discussion which will be started on relations between the United States and the League of Nations will provide occasion to repair some of the faults committed at Versailles."

Swiss Comments.
Bern, Nov. 3.—The Swiss newspapers to-day comment sympathetically on the election of Senator Harding as President of the United States. The Bund considers Harding's victory "the first natural reaction against the autocratic tendencies and international policy of President Wilson."

"The American people," the newspaper adds, "do not wish a pronounced presidential policy. They are desirous of giving back power to Congress, thus returning to a real democracy."

THE MANIFESTO.

Those references in Premier Oliver's manifesto which comprise the "broad outline" of a liquor control policy will have more interest for a large number of the electorate than his recital of the Government's record and programme upon which it seeks endorsement. Nevertheless only a very small percentage of that number will regard the general election as a contest between Liberal and Conservative interpretations of the meaning of the plebiscite result. It is obvious that the Premier has avoided rash promises, but he has covered the fundamentals of the subject. He very properly points out that upon the Legislative Assembly—"newly-elected and acting under the direct instructions of the electors"—must devolve the duty of originating and enacting legislation expressive of the people's will. Nobody will seriously contest the logic of such a procedure. Exponents of Government control never doubted the ability of the Legislature to give practical effect to a majority vote in their favor.

The demand for a Government bill in advance is a special plea for a political target and merely seeks a short cut from constitutional and democratic procedure to government by Cabinet decision. Nor has there been any demand for a bill from those who represent the majority sentiment upon this particular question. On the other hand it is reasonable to suppose that the electorate will demand of every candidate an expression of view upon all questions of importance. Very naturally liquor will get its share of attention and upon the candidate's attitude will depend the support he will get from that small section of the general public which will place this issue before all others. It may be observed, however, that the Premier should not find it difficult to amplify his "broad outline" as the campaign progresses, and still avoid any encroachment upon the powers and prerogatives of the Legislative Assembly.

THE P. G. E. AGAIN.

It is not easy to understand Mr. Bowser's process of reasoning when he deals with the financial policy of the Oliver Administration. Upon no occasion has he lost a single opportunity to complain of the borrowings of his successors in office, and upon no single occasion recently has he omitted to announce his intention of constructing the Pacific Great Eastern Railway to the Peace River country—if he should be the Leader of the next Government.

Everybody will agree that it would be an excellent thing for the Northern Central section of British Columbia if the treasury of this Province could be tapped to the extent of twenty-five millions of dollars for the completion of this line of railway to its logical terminus. But, as the Premier's manifesto suggests, the rest of the Province very naturally would ask any Government which would commit it to an indefinite concentration of credit upon this particular enterprise what it would do for the general advantage of the people as a whole.

There is a future for the Provincial railway system; but it does not lie with provincial ownership. Until one of the two competing trans-continental railways acquires it and develops it British Columbia will have to make up its mind to put up with the losses. That is no reason, however, why the Government should get out of breath in announcing a programme which would add twenty-five millions of dollars to the Provincial debt at the expense of more pressing need for development in other parts of the Province.

LABOR'S SET BACK

One of the most significant reversions of public sentiment in Great Britain during the last twelve months is to be found in the results of the municipal elections in the Provinces. Labor's outstanding victory in the 1919 contests was regarded in the most conservative circles as the forerunner of a greater representation for the workingman in the House of Commons. This year's verdict which has just been recorded discloses the loss of a large number of seats in such important industrial districts as Bradford, Birmingham, Manchester, Liverpool and Huddersfield.

There are two unmistakable causes for the change. In the first place, the tendency on the part of Labor as a whole to disregard public opinion—against the advice of its leaders—when it has considered itself able to exact its own terms has found its effect in the municipal ballot box. In the second place, the increasing burden of municipal taxation in all those sections of the country largely controlled by Labor majority in the aldermanic circle prompted an organized objection by means of educational propaganda during the weeks preceding the election. This method has contributed to the change of view.

Moreover, the striking turnover in a convincing commentary upon the value of a proper respect for popular sentiment in all matters where one section of the community seeks to impose its will upon the majority for political and unreasonable mercenary advantages.

THE LATE MR. BAKER.

Those residents of this city who recall more vividly the part taken by the late Mr. Crow Baker in the early development of this section of Vancouver Island will mourn his loss with genuine sympathy. To those who followed the pioneers his good works are no stranger. His unsullied citizenship, and his public service in both civic and national fields always will remain a monument to a life well lived. In his passing the city of Victoria and the Province as a whole have lost another member of that magnificent band to whom the country owes so much. Widespread sympathy will be extended to those who remain to sorrow.

A RED HERRING.

Mr. Bowser's financial anomalies are rapidly taking the place of some of his antediluvian political practices. His latest proposal is a per capita relief measure for the municipalities. But its significance lies not so much in its appeal for votes as an alternative to the frequent pilgrimages of municipal delegations to the Government in quest of a share of provincial revenue. In other words Mr. Bowser would make quite sure that the necessary revenue would be forthcoming with which to perform his act of magnanimity; but he would not give undue prominence to its origin.

There are other proposals which might have commanded the attention of the Leader of the Opposition. For instance, the system in operation in the larger communities of Alberta and Saskatchewan—where local authority has both business and income taxes to supplement its levy on land—would prevent the jealousies incidental to several authorities raising a corresponding revenue from a common set of taxpayers by a common method, differing only in the personality of the tax collector. Take another example. From the subdivision of motor and amusement taxes into the areas whence they properly belong Mr. Bowser's scheme would be unnecessary. In other words when the census of 1921 is known the Government—having set in the Budget its allowance per head of population—could raise the money in some new manner of taxation and turn it over to the municipalities to disburse.

There is nothing involved in Mr. Bowser's scheme. It would merely mean more supervision over municipal bodies as a corollary to a larger share of provincial interest in their income; but in the long run the City Council would bask in the glory arising from a lower municipal tax rate while the taxpayer would provide the municipal subsidy through another channel. Robbing Peter to pay Paul means nothing to the man and woman who must find the money.

No-doubt many Liberal candidates will ask why Mr. Bowser did not suggest his remedy earlier, why he failed to apply it during the years of 1915 and 1916 when the vast pile of delinquent taxes began to press so heavily, when the municipalities might have been saved from a good deal of their present embarrassment.

PROVINCIAL HIGHWAY.

At his meeting at Athlone on Tuesday the Hon. J. H. King stated positively that if the Oliver Administration is returned to office the trans-provincial highway would be commenced early next year. The Premier was on the platform at the time and approved the statement of the Minister of Public Works. This will be good news to the people of British Columbia for the reason that until road connection is provided between the Eastern and Western extremities of the Province a great deal of development is held up and the public treasury is denied a very considerable revenue from tourist travel that would be assured upon the completion of such an undertaking. The question of which route should be followed is a matter to which a number of public bodies throughout the Province have devoted no little attention. It has been generally conceded, however, that the Fraser Canyon offers a more feasible grade and an accessible highway all the year round.

NOTE AND COMMENT

Has the Prime Minister of Canada taken appropriate notice of the fate of the war Government of the United States?

The London Morning Post compares President Wilson with Lenin and thinks that rejection by the United States of autocratic idealism will bring relief to the world. But how did The Morning Post manage to get so near to popular sentiment?

Mr. R. H. Pooley, who is seeking re-election in Esquimalt, says that the Conservatives gave the vote to the women of this Province. We were under the impression that a majority of the electorate returned a very decided verdict.

Mr. William Savage places the blame for the defeat of prohibition upon the Oliver Government. As president of the "drys" in this Province he should not allow defeat to "go to his head."

WHY ARE BORDS EGGS DIFFERENT COLOR

(Copyright, 1920, By The Wheel Syndicate, Inc.)

Even in the course of a brief ramble through the woods it is sometimes possible to come across birds' eggs of many varying hues—ranging from the sky-blue of the robin's egg to the white ones of owls and woodpeckers. This difference in the coloring of the shells is another example of the principle of "protective coloration," evident in the ability of the chameleon to change his hue, in the speckled feathers of the grouse or partridge, and in the skins of a number of types of reptiles. It is because of this protective coloration that many animals and birds are enabled to elude their enemies, apparently merging into the background and becoming so part of the foliage or rocks among which they are accustomed to live. In other words, it is nothing more than nature's camouflage—practiced in such a manner that man can only approximate it by artificial means. White eggs are, for the most part, laid by hole-nesting species of birds, like the owl and the woodpecker. Since these eggs are well hidden in their dark cavities, it has not been necessary for them to develop the protection of color. But the bright, greenish-blue eggs of the thrush and the lighter blue eggs of the robin must be hidden in nests which are concealed in dense vegetation, while the speckled eggs of the ground-nesting swallows depend for their safety upon the fact that they merge in with the darker materials of which the nests are constructed.

WHERE IT STARTED

(Copyright, 1920, By The Wheel Syndicate, Inc.)

The earliest preserved specimens of fountains are at the palace of Tello and an Assyrian fountain at Vavian—a fountain from whose mouth water issued. The fountains date to 3000 B.C. The Greeks and Romans held fountains in veneration, and there were many sacred fountains in those countries.

HIGH TAX RATE.

reported to be anxious to get into the light.

Alderman Andros Retires.
At a conference held between the supporters of Captain Orford, the Soldier-Labor candidate for Esquimalt, and those of Alderman Andros, who had a large following who desired him to represent them as an Independent, it was agreed that, rather than split the vote, Alderman Andros would retire in favor of Captain Orford, thus leaving the field open to the Soldier-Labor candidate. It is understood that Alderman Andros will support Captain Orford in the coming campaign.

Islands Nominations.
The Conservatives of the Islands Riding are this afternoon holding their nominating convention in the Mahon Hall at Ganges, with W. J. Bowser, K.C., as the chief speaker. To-morrow the Liberal forces will muster at the same place to consider their choice, but up to the present there is little likelihood of there being any other name than that of M. B. Jackson, K.C., the member in the last House for the constituency.

Hon. E. D. Barrow Nominated.
Abbotsford, B. C., Nov. 3.—At an enthusiastic meeting of Liberals of Chilliwack constituency here to-day Hon. E. D. Barrow, Minister of Agriculture was unanimously nominated to contest the seat at the coming election. The Minister sketched the record of the Oliver Government, dwelling particularly on what had been done to encourage land settlement and in the matter of aiding returned soldiers.

Alderman Gifford Chosen.
New Westminster, B. C., Nov. 3.—Ald. William Gifford, son of Thomas Gifford, formerly member for this riding, has been unanimously selected to be the Conservative candidate for the New Westminster riding in the forthcoming Provincial elections. The nominating convention was held last evening in St. George's Hall, and after the usual preliminaries Ald. Gifford was nominated by Capt. C. E. Annandale and seconded by Reen Morgan.

Trail Seat.
Trail, B. C., Nov. 3.—Both the Conservatives and the Liberals of the Trail riding held their conventions to-day. James H. Schofield, former M. P., was unanimously renominated by the Conservatives. The Liberals chose J. S. Deschamps, the Rossland lumberman.

Slocan Riding.
Nakusp, Nov. 3.—Conservatives nominated William Hunter, and C. P. Nelson was chosen by the Liberals. While returning to New Denver Mr. Nelson was in a road accident and is now in the hospital with one of his fellow delegates. His injuries are not fully diagnosed, but his doctors expect to have him out of the hospital soon.

Cranbrook Riding.
Cranbrook, Nov. 4.—Cranbrook Conservatives to-night unanimously nominated J. D. Caven, former member for this riding, to oppose Hon. J. H. King in the Provincial election.

Marpole, B.C., Nov. 4.—H. P. McCrayer was chosen by the Liberals of Richmond to contest that seat for the provincial legislature Tuesday. McCrayer is an old timer in British Columbia. He first came to the province in 1885, and arrived in Vancouver in the following year. During the past twenty-five years he has held numerous public positions and was a member of the first park board of Vancouver in 1888.

In the same year he was present at the reception of Lord Stanley, then Governor-General. From 1892 to 1896 he served on the council of Vancouver as a member for Ward III and was on the first Vancouver library board for Vancouver many years ago. For many years he was a resident of Rossland. He is at present in his fourth year as police commissioner for Point Grey municipality.

New nominations announced are: North Okanagan—W. F. Laidman, Farmers' Price Fixation, Independent Conservative.

Vancouver—Grand Army of United Veterans, E. Farrer, F. W. Crawford and J. L. Miller. Central Ratepayers' Association, W. O. Black. Women's Freedom League, Mrs. W. H. Crofield.

Columbia—H. G. Parson, of Golden, has been nominated as Conservative candidate in the Columbia district. He is opposed by J. A. Buckham, late sitting Liberal member. F. L. Mitchell is mentioned as a probable Independent Farmers' candidate.

Revelstoke—J. M. Humphrey, United Farmers.

Kaslo—Col. Fred Lister, United Farmers.

Grand Forks—C. A. S. Atwood, United Farmers.

Slocan—J. Stinson, United Farmers.

Greenwood—John R. Jackson or W. Roberts (Conservative).

To Be Candidate Again.
New Westminster, B. C., Nov. 4.—Mr. Whitehead has been nominated as the Liberal candidate for this city in the Provincial elections, and has expressed his willingness to accept.

One Socialist.
The House will have one Socialist member—Meyer London, of New York, who defeated M. H. Goldfoglie. Fusion candidates in the 12th district. The Prohibition party lost its only representative, but an Independent Prohibitionist, Milton W. Shrew, was elected from the 25th Pennsylvania district.

Champ Clark Beaten.
Several notable upsets occurred in the Congressional race—among them the retirement by Missouri voters of former Speaker Champ Clark of the House, and the election by Texas voters of a Republican representative, Harry Wurzbach.

Party included a statement from William J. Bryan, in which he divided blame for the defeat between President Wilson and Governor Cox, asserting that the former had laid the foundation for the disaster and the latter had "completed the structure."

Votes.
Returns to-day showed the following states had given their electoral votes—a total of 390—to Harding: California 12, Colorado 6, Connecticut 7, Delaware 3, Idaho 4, Illinois 29, Indiana 15, Iowa 15, Kansas 10, Maine 6, Maryland 6, Massachusetts 18, Michigan 15, Minnesota 12, Missouri 18, Montana 4, Nebraska 5, New Hampshire 4, New Jersey 14, New York 45, Ohio 24, Oklahoma 10, Oregon 5, Pennsylvania 38, Rhode Island 5, South Dakota 5, Tennessee 12, Utah 4, Vermont 4, Washington 7, West Virginia 8, Wisconsin 13, Wyoming 3. Total 390.

Governor Cox had safely the following: Alabama 12, Arkansas 9, Florida 5, Georgia 14, Kentucky 12, Louisiana 10, Mississippi 10, North Carolina 12, South Carolina 9, Texas 20, Virginia 12. Total 127.

States still in the doubtful list, having sufficient returns, were: Arizona 3, Nevada 3, New Mexico 3, North Dakota 5. Total 14.

HOROSCOPE

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 4, 1920.
(Copyright, 1920, by The McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

During business hours of this day kindly stars rule, according to astrology, but the evening is exceedingly menacing. Jupiter is in benefic aspect until late in the afternoon, Saturn also being friendly. After sundown, however, threatening stars rule, for Saturn changes to evil away, while Mercury and Uranus are adverse.

There is a most promising rule for business and commerce, the stars forecasting organization and efficiency so well developed that the greatest profits are assured, especially in all lines of manufacturing.

This is a favorable government of the stars under which to plan initiative and extension of business.

All who sell should benefit by today's posting of the stars. Profits should be large and sales rapid.

There is a sign read as indicating good luck for men who enter business partnerships with women, since the stars seem to preface development of the feminine mind along logical and commercial lines of thought.

Real estate should be profitable at this time, women being especially fortunate in the directions of their stars.

It was prognosticated two years ago that the theatrical world would undergo many changes. This prophecy is now repeated and the stars declare that many women will produce plays and become managers.

The young of both sexes are subject to the most inspiring and stimulating influences at this time. Many talented boys and girls will be discovered among Americans.

A new amusement will be introduced from a foreign country and will engage much attention during the winter.

The highest honor yet bestowed on a woman will be given to a resident of the Middle West, the stars declare.

Persons whose birthdate it is may have rather an unsettled year. They should avoid change and should be careful in the handling of their money.

Children born on this day may be restless and fond of change. These subjects of Scorpio are often successful in adventures. Girls have the augury of fortunate marriage.

Mr. Pooley attacked the Government for not having held the prohibition plebiscite and the election on the same day, as the expense of the plebiscite, which will run to about $250,000, would have been saved.

There was absolutely no justification for such a needless expenditure of public money," said Mr. Pooley.

He also asserted that the Government road policy is wasteful and inefficient, and cited his own district as an example.

W. Miller Higgs, representing Sooke residents, declared Mr. Pooley to be the right man for member and said that Sooke would give him an overwhelming majority.

J. R. Saunders told of the great interest Mr. Pooley has always taken in the district and said that he measured up to the standards set by his father, Hon. C. E. Pooley, the former member for Esquimalt.

SALE OF WORK AT ESQUIMALT CLUB

The sum of $25 was raised by the newly-formed Ladies' Guild of the Sailors' Club, Esquimalt, at their silver tea and sale of work held at the Club yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Gaiger was the general convenor of the affair, to whom much credit is due for its successful organization. The four principal stalls represented the four seasons: jewellery and novelties were sold at the "Spring" stall, vegetables at "Summer," fancy work at the "Autumn" booth, and home cooking at "Winter," the booths being respectively in the care of Mrs. Restell, Mrs. White, Mrs. Hibbert and Mrs. Palmer. A cake guessing competition was won by Mrs. Johnson. Other features were a bran tub and a touch-and-take table.

The sale was formally opened by Mrs. Thomson, president of the Ladies' Guild of the Esquimalt Seamen's Institute, and Miss Foster. A delicious afternoon tea was served under the capable direction of Mrs. Hanna.

A. O. F. Sale of Work—Court Maple Leaf, A. O. F. will hold their annual sale of work in the Foresters' Hall, Broad Street, November 8, from 2:30 p.m. till 6 p.m. Final arrangements have been made and the following sisters will be in charge of stalls: Sister Denyer, convenor;

KING'S DAUGHTERS HEAR SATISFACTORY REPORTS OF WORK

Satisfactory reports of progress in their particular lines of work were given at the meeting of the King's Daughters in the Hibben-Bone Building yesterday afternoon, with L. H. Hardie, the district president in the chair.

Donations of material and $73 from the Lady Alderson Chapter, I.O.D.E., were received, and it was reported the rest room had been opened twenty-four days and 2,355 persons served through the month. As the rest room is in need of new supplies of crockery, etc., it was decided to purchase same. All Circles reported on their work, and several needy cases are being assisted. The Victoria Circle reported holding a book tea on Thursday, November 12, as the last named day was already engaged.

Reports were given from the King's Daughters' Hospital, Duncan. The King's Daughters' share of the proceeds from the refreshment rooms at the fair amounted to $573.42, which was equally divided among the three Circles.

WISH ALEXANDRA CLUB TO RESUME

As Ladies' Club Under New Conditions; Interested Women Met

SPEAKS OF I.O.D.E. PIONEER WORKER

Margaret Rocke Robertson Chapter Hears Interesting Talk by Mrs. McMicking

Since financial difficulties caused the suspension of the Alexandra Club there has been a crying need for a ladies' club in the city to serve as a rendezvous for women looking for a comfortable place in which to rest, and in which the fees are commensurate with the slim purse occasioned by the present high cost of living. In an endeavor to meet this need a number of interested women met in the Island Arts and Crafts Club yesterday afternoon and discussed the situation, their deliberations culminating in a resolution recommending that the Alexandra Club be re-organized with less ambitious headquarters and under new conditions.

Ladies' Club Needed.

Eighteen women attended the meeting and Mrs. W. H. Belson was elected to the chair. In response to a request for an outline of the objects of the meeting, Mrs. E. S. Hasell stated that the Alexandra Club was still in existence, but that since its suspension rumors had come to the ears of the committee that there was a demand for a ladies' club in a simpler form, and disassociated with any "house" system as was now in vogue at the Alexandra Club. Coupled with these reports was a rumor that there was a proposal to start a ladies' club, and rather than that another club should be started with any spirit of competition or antagonism the members of the Alexandra Club thought it better to meet the ladies interested in the formation of a club and discuss the matter, to see whether it would be wiser to wind up the affairs of the Alexandra Club and hand over the goodwill and such of its furnishings as remained, or whether it would be better to go into a new undertaking.

Pioneer Institution.

In the event of the winding-up of the Alexandra Club, Mrs. Hasell expressed the hope that the old name would be retained out of respect to the pioneer women who founded the club, which was the oldest women's club in the Dominion, and had been organized nearly thirty years ago.

After considerable discussion, in which emphasis was laid on the necessity for reasonably low entrance and membership fees, Mrs. A. T. Hodgins moved a resolution, which was seconded by Mrs. Stewart, to the effect that "the Alexandra Club committee be asked to call an extraordinary general meeting at which the recommendation be submitted from this meeting that the Alexandra Club resume under new conditions and under a new committee."

Miss Macdonald, who had been appointed at the previous meeting to enquire as to suitable quarters available for a club, reported on the result of her investigations. Mrs. Tyrel Godman, Mrs. Umbach and Mrs. A. E. Hodgins were asked to the committee with a view to their ascertaining the cost of furnishing and maintenance. The meeting then adjourned and will meet again at the call of the chair.

The gem which presides over mortal destiny to-day, the sapphire, has doubly power, since it is both the natal and talismanic stone. As a talisman it protects its wearer from a stagnation, permitting him to pass through an epidemic absolutely unharmed. It is also believed to attract material wealth.

For those who were born on some anniversary of this day, the sapphire holds forth the promise of a love that is faithful, and unchanging. For this reason it is the best stone to gift, as from the diamond, between affianced lovers, though in modern times it is little used as such.

Yellow is the color prescribed by Oriental superstition for wear on this day. It is believed to attract happiness, and to bring to a woman the appearance of youth and radiance.

The yellow chrysanthemum is to-day's fortunate flower.

The gem which presides over mortal destiny to-day, the sapphire, has doubly power, since it is both the natal and talismanic stone. As a talisman it protects its wearer from a stagnation, permitting him to pass through an epidemic absolutely unharmed. It is also believed to attract material wealth.

For those who were born on some anniversary of this day, the sapphire holds forth the promise of a love that is faithful, and unchanging. For this reason it is the best stone to gift, as from the diamond, between affianced lovers, though in modern times it is little used as such.

Yellow is the color prescribed by Oriental superstition for wear on this day. It is believed to attract happiness, and to bring to a woman the appearance of youth and radiance.

The yellow chrysanthemum is to-day's fortunate flower.

PRETTY WEDDING OF MEMBER OF FIRST CHURCH CHoir

A pretty wedding was solemnized at the First Presbyterian Church yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock, when the Rev. J. G. Inkster united in marriage Cyril Wesley Mervyn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Mervyn, of Vancouver, and Miss Doris Ethel Hurst, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. F. Hurst, of 329 Shakespeare Street, Victoria. The bride is a member of the church choir, and to do her honor the service was fully choral, the choir singing the hymns, "O Father All-Creating," and "The Voice That Breathed O'er Eden," and at the close the Benediction, Mr. Gurney presided at the organ.

The bride looked charming in her wedding gown of white crepe-de-chine and georgette with conventional veil and orange blossoms, carrying a bouquet of white chrysanthemums. She was attended by two bridesmaids. Her sister, Miss Charlotte E. Hurst, wore a pretty frock of Nile green silk mull and carried a bouquet of yellow chrysanthemums, while Miss Pettigrew wore pale blue satin and shadow lace and carried yellow chrysanthemums. John Keenan supported the bridegroom. The bridegroom's gift to the best man was a pair of gold cuff-links, and to the bridesmaids a pearl brooch.

After the ceremony the guests repaired to the home of the bride's parents, where a delicious wedding breakfast was served, the guests including Rev. J. G. and Mrs. Inkster, Mrs. Maynard, Mr. A. Gurney, Mr.

and Mrs. Jackson Hanby, Mr. and Mrs. Weller, Mr. and Mrs. Miss Brooks, Mrs. Keenan, Mr. and Mrs. Robertson, Miss Brinkman. The young couple were the recipients of many handsome gifts, the bride receiving among others, a handsome silver casserole from her fellow employees, and a cut glass vase from the church choir of which she is a member.

VANISHED JOY

He who would taste life's happiness Must sip the cup when it is passed. He must not wait some future date. The present sweetness cannot last.

Age unto youth cannot return. The tides of pleasure cannot wait. Be glad to-day, if now you may. To-morrow it may be too late.

CLAIMS TWENTY-FOUR MILLIONS IS WORTH OF CITY BOY LIFE

Rotarians Listen to Inspiring Addresses on Welfare of Underprivileged Boys

That Victoria with a population of 60,000 of which some 6,000 were boys between the ages of 14 to 18, had a financial asset in boy life of $24,000,000 was the startling statement made by Christian J. Atkinson, New York Rotarian, and secretary of the International Boys' Club Federation of the continent, today to the assembled Rotarians at the noon day luncheon.

This startling figure the speaker arrived at by stating that professional research had placed the average value of the boy to a community at $4,000, while the chemical value of his composition when analyzed would be about 116 at the present value of chemicals, and the "potential appreciation" somewhere in the neighborhood of millions. But for purposes of figuring the actual value of a single boy to any community would be in the neighborhood of $4,000. Victoria then with its 6,000 boys between the ages of 14 to 18 years of age would have a boy life of $24,000,000 as stated.

The speaker had ascertained that the estimated value of the buildings in the city would be $25,000,000, on which the city fathers spent some $154,000 a year in fire protection alone. The fire department employed some 66 actual helpers on the whole time. The boy life of the city was then at least worth the expenditure of $154,000 and 66 whole time workers, he claimed.

Field for Work.

Deducting the activities of the Boys' Naval Brigade, Boy Scouts, Sunday schools and Y.M.C.A. workers, the number of boys not catered to in the city would be about 4,000, he claimed, and this would comprise very largely the most needy class of boys, the underprivileged class of boys.

Boys, he stated, might be divided into three different classes for the purpose of the present consideration. The over-privileged, privileged and under-privileged. In the first class he placed 4 per cent of the whole boy life of the city, in the second class some 46 per cent, having 66 per cent of the 6,000 who were under-privileged, and who by virtue of circumstances had not had the advantage of a higher education, proper home influence or proper Christian enlightenment.

Good Record Here.

Taking the records of the Victoria Juvenile Court for the past nine years, 210 boys had been dealt with as delinquents, while on the other hand every year had been committed to houses of correction. That percentage was very creditable to the city, he stated, and that was the fact that this city had not the homogeneous population that affected localities in Eastern Canada, but even that 210 boy figure could be eliminated by proper methods, and one-half of the care that the city placed in its buildings.

A burned building was the loss of an asset, and there it ended, but a boy gone wrong was not only the loss of a legitimate asset but an actual and virtual liability, and became a source of extra expense to the community and Dominion at large. After placing these figures before the Rotarians Mr. Atkinson suggested the remedy and that was the establishment of a boys' club, that would have the open door as a motto, and where the youth of the community would be taught to be in the spare time. From 14 to 18 years of age was the danger period in the life of a boy, he claimed, and that was the time to take the boy and inculcate into him the higher degree of life, show him what to do with his spare time, and save the terrible waste in boyhood life through improper surroundings and criminal negligence on the part of those who ought to make every effort to circumvent the condition of criminal courts he had been speaking about.

Appeal to Club.

He then appealed to the Rotary Club of Victoria to fall in line with the other Rotary Clubs and take this matter up heart and soul. On the close of his address Mr. Atkinson was accorded a thunderous reception that testified to the appreciation of the figures he had placed before the gathering.

Taylor Station Speaks.

Preceding Mr. Atkinson, Rotarian Taylor Station, organizer of the now famed Canadian Standard Efficiency Training Movement, spoke of the growing realization of the importance of boys' welfare work in Canada, and indeed in every country. It was now realized, he stated, that to influence the world of the future for good, one had to take hold of the child life of the world, and train it in the way that it should go. The day when preachers with pedagogicunction appealed to grown ups to change their ways was passing rapidly, and the time was at hand when the nation workers would appeal to the child to form the habits that make for service and helpfulness to their fellow beings, making for the enlightenment and progress of civilization the world over. In a comical little resume, dealing with the formation of habits of mind in the child from the days of babyhood, Mr. Station stated the baby was all selfish, it was instinctive with a baby to get what it wanted immediately and for itself, later the growing boy learned that he could get what he wanted by taking it from the other fellow, and then followed a period where the terrible doctrine of might over right held first sway, to the lastling regret of nations later.

About the years from 14 to 16 boys began to experience the value of team work, and dropped to a great extent the doctrine of might over right. Here was the time to take them in hand, and make that first exhibition of unselfishness habit with them. After all, he stated, self-denial and service to one's fellow man was not acquired in a day, but was formed only by the acquisition of the habit through a life time of practice. Efficiency was the cry, and on the very grounds of efficiency the leaders of nations now realized that it would be best obtained by training the youth of the country to form the habits of self-denial, and

"HARD TIMES" DANCE

Ingenious Costumes at Enjoyable Affair Under Moose Auspices Last Night.

The best event of the season from a Moose point of view took place last night at the K. of P. Hall. A "Hard Times" dance was the main feature and it would be almost an impossibility to describe the varied "costumes" in which sacks, paper and rags predominated. Fully 200 couples were in attendance, and the dance hall was packed to the limit. Prizes were awarded for the most appropriate costumes, and the judges, Mrs. Trentham, E. J. Monk and Mr. Elsmore, had a very difficult task to select the winners, finally awarding the prizes as follows, first lady, Mrs. Ferguson; second, Mrs. Spaven; third, Miss E. Pearce, the latter as a Times newboy with bag complete; the first gent, Mr. Mousset, a hobo; second, Mr. Malkin; third, R. B. Godfree. Dancing was from 9:30 to 1 a. m., and everyone had a glorious time. In connection a whist drive was held as usual, twenty-eight tables being occupied, for which the prizes were awarded, first Mrs. Smithurst; second, Mrs. A. Bittin; third, Mrs. Rossiter; first gents, Mr. Aust; second, Mr. Leach; third, W. F. H. Thompson. Great credit is due the committee, both ladies and gentlemen, who helped to make it such a success, and the next affair on November 17 is anxiously looked forward to by the hundreds of Moose patrons.

Why Be Afraid of Good Food?

Eat What You Like Best But Follow It With a Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablet.

When the stomach aches or becomes uneasy, with heartburn, it needs the alkaline effect to offset the acid condition.

"This you get from one or two Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. Relief is usually very prompt. The regular use of these tablets after meals gives the stomach and small intestine substantial help to digest food and you will then be bold enough to eat baked beans, fried eggs, sausage, buckwheat cakes and many other things you thought would make your stomach miserable. Get a 50 cent box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets at any drug store and you will then eat whatever you like and be fortified against the acid, sour stomach due to indigestion or dyspepsia."

RELIGIOUS SESSION HEAR MANY SPEAKERS ON CHURCH TOPICS

Important Contentions Made For Good of World's Welfare by Eminent Divines

Completing the number of speakers who addressed the conference on religious education, which is in session at the Metropolitan Methodist Church, last night, Dr. W. C. Poole, of London, England, gave the gathering the results of his observations while a delegate to the World's Sunday School Convention at Tokyo in October this year. Dr. Poole has just returned from the Japanese centre and had many interesting things to relate to the gathering last night.

Dr. Henry F. Cope, Chicago, general secretary of the Religious Education Association of the United States, also addressed the evening and afternoon session of the local conference, the outstanding point in his address being his contention that the Christian Church failed to provide for the welfare of the child with the same degree of attention that was expended by the state on the same objective. In the consequent losing of interest in the younger generations, the church as a body was losing its hold on the only active medium for the restitution of morality and good in the world.

"The world of to-morrow is in the hearts, ideals and purposes of the boys and girls of to-day," he told his audience, and if there was ever to be a decent social order it would have to be a Christian social order that would bind the hearts of men together, in a manner that could never be affected by mere agreement between nations.

Bishop Schofield presided at the session last night and added an appreciated address to the contributions of the evening. The Rev. W. E. Galway and the Rev. E. McLean also spoke on church work, adding new lights to the minds of the conference on its different points. A mothers' conference was held this afternoon, while to-night Taylor Stratton and Dr. Henry F. Cope will address the session in connection with "Religion in the Home."

SAYS VICTORIA NEEDS WINTER AMUSEMENT

Mr. Hooper Is Back in the City After Lengthy Tour

John Hooper, president of the Canadian Tourist Association, who is now in Victoria, after a six months' tour of the United States and Canada, in an interview this morning, credits R. Creelman, of the Canadian National Railways, with saying that the Winter tourist traffic to the Pacific coast will exceed all former years.

This movement has already become so prominent that the rail lines are making extra accommodation on the regular trains to furnish due facilities for the expected and growing movement West of the Winter tourist.

This is attributed by the speaker to the fact that the Summer and Fall was very warm in the East and on the prairies, and will be followed by a cold Winter, expediting the annual holiday movement of easterners out to this coast.

Mr. Hooper states that his Association may establish branches in Vancouver and Victoria to co-operate more fully with the local bodies along those lines. Extra hotel accommodation, Winter entertainments and similar attractions and facilities will be necessary before Victoria experiences her due need of this Winter tourist movement. With these provisions made effective Victoria will play a really important part in the Winter housing of the tourist fraternity from the East, he thinks.

Mrs. Hooper accompanies him. They have just completed a trip over the Eastern States and Eastern Canada, covering over ten thousand miles since June last, speaking before large gatherings of tourists at Detroit, Mich.; Toronto, Ont.; Winnipeg, Man.; Atlantic City, Put-in-Bay, Ohio; Mount Clemens, Niagara Falls and many other points.

To Discharge Lumber In Thundering Surf On Peruvian Coast

Schooner Honoipu Puts to Sea With Cargo of British Columbia Lumber For Piemental, Exposed to Open Pacific; Cargo Will Be Rafted Through Breakers.

Putting ashore a cargo of lumber in the face of a thundering and never-ceasing succession of breakers is the unenviable task that awaits the ship's complement of the American schooner Honoipu, which is clearing from this port to-day bound for Piemental, Peru.

Captain Page, master of the Honoipu, does not anticipate the discharging of his vessel with any marked degree of pleasure. The Peruvian coastline is exposed to the full sweep of the open Pacific and mariners who have had occasion to visit that section of the South American coast realize to the full the obstacles that have to be overcome in getting freight ashore with the restless ocean beating a merry tattoo along the sandy Peruvian beaches.

Neither the Peruvian Government or private interests have yet invested large sums in breakwaters for the protection of shipping, and, with the exception of the larger ports, vessels have to take their chance in putting freights over the side.

Surf Barrier.
The surf is continually pounding the foreshore at Piemental, and ships experience great difficulty in unloading cargoes there. In order that their safety may not be prejudiced vessels are forced to heave the anchor overboard in the open roadstead and await a favorable opportunity to discharge.

The customary plan for the unloading of cargoes, especially lumber freights, is the operation of log-rafts to and from the anchored ship. The raft is lashed alongside the ship and the lumber dropped over the side and jashed in place. Then the raft starts on its shoreward journey and the surf-riders are invariably hurled well on shore by the heavy breakers.

Exhilarating Work.
The work is not without its thrills, and to say the least, it is most exhilarating.

The Honoipu is laden with 600,000 feet of British Columbia lumber. The cargo was taken aboard at Genoa Bay and the schooner came to this port to round out her crew before starting away for the South.

The Honoipu is a small four-masted craft of about 600 tons register, and is owned by Hind, Rolph & Co., of San Francisco.

ARIZONA BRINGING FIRST MANDARINS

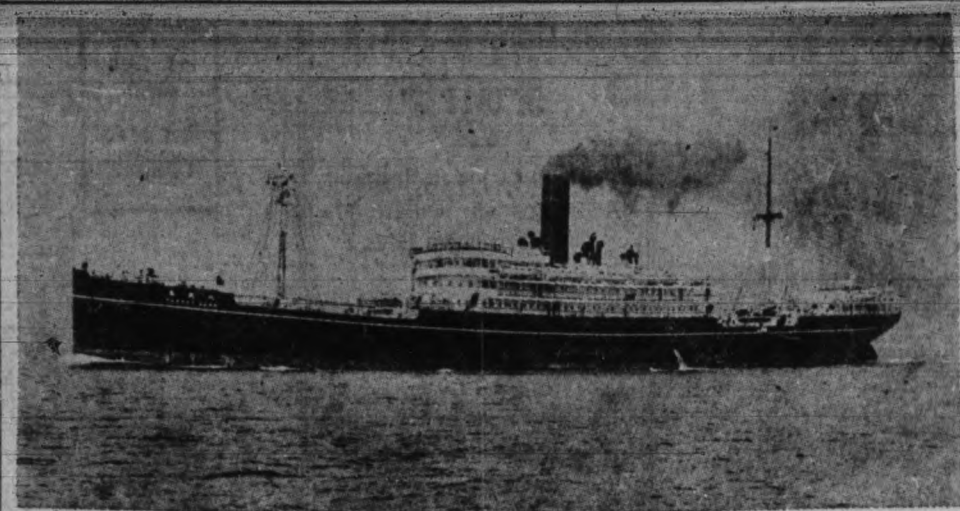

Japanese Oranges Will Be Shipped in Large Quantities in Next Few Months

The season's first shipment of mandarins from Yokohama will arrive on this coast by the Osaka Shosen Kaisha liner Arizona Maru, and shipments of the Japanese oranges will continue to be delivered here by the regular trans-Pacific carriers until the early part of next year. The shipment of Japanese mandarins to this coast is increasing year by year. Last season roughly 5,000 tons were consigned to ports on this side of the Pacific.

The shipment coming by the Arizona Maru comprises early goods from Shizuoka. According to word brought by the liner Katori Maru the Arizona Maru was due to leave Yokohama November 1. Another consignment of early oranges is expected to arrive here by the Nippon Yusen Kaisha liner Tajima Maru, which is due at Victoria November 19.

CONVENTION HALL AT TOKIO WAS QUICKLY REDUCED TO RUINS

Crossed Electric Wires Started Fire Which Destroyed Beautiful Building

The convention hall at Tokyo, which was the scene of the big Japanese Marine Band performance, was destroyed by fire which broke out just three hours before the scheduled opening of the convention and within a very short time the fine building was a mass of charred ruins.

The convention chorus, of more than 600 persons and the orchestra of the Imperial Japanese Marine Band were holding a final rehearsal in the auditorium when the fire broke out, but all of the singers and musicians, as well as the several hundred other persons in the building at the time, evacuated the burning building safely.

The convention chorus was practicing and the platform was filled with the singers, who, accompanied by the naval orchestra, were being led by Professor H. Augustine Smith, musical director. Some of the singers heard a crackling above their heads which sounded like the noise accompanying the flash when a trolley makes connection with the overhead wire. Professor Smith noticed the small blaze and at once ordered the members of the chorus to file out of the building in orderly fashion. He cautioned them not to rush, but there was no danger, but that they had better go until the fire was extinguished. Some of the men in the chorus tried to get at the blaze by pulling down the curtain, but this was seen to be useless. While the crowd on the lower floor and the first balcony made a hurried, but orderly exit, the alarm was spread.

Costly Structure.
The cost of the building alone was $60,000, which was partially covered by $55,000 insurance. R. Furuhashi, architect in charge of the decorations, estimated that the interior furnishings and decorations, which were destroyed, brought the total loss up to about $100,000.

The fire, which was first apparent from the outside through the topmost windows of the building, spread across the upper section like a prairie blaze. Within ten minutes from the time the first puff was seen the upper section had fallen in and the place where the handsome white building had stood but ten minutes before presented only a crackling fire-bed from which the earlier high flames and black funnel of smoke had disappeared. When the destruction of the building was complete the convention committee set about making plans for the carrying out of the convention programme in spite of the unfortunate occurrence.

Before the blaze had died down, several prominent Japanese who have been active in promoting the convention—Viscount Shibusawa, S. Ebara, the Rev. K. Ibuka, and a number of others—joined the executive committee. T. Furubushi, the architect who has for weeks given his time and his heart to the artistic finish of the tabernacle, broke down and wept like a child. William G. Landels began singing "How Firm a Foundation" and was joined, one by one, by the others present.

The committee then quietly went to work to rearrange the meetings and make plans necessary for the carrying out of the convention programme.

The use of the Imperial Theatre was offered the committee by Baron Okura, president of the Imperial Theatre Company, and Baron Shibusawa, who founded the Imperial Theatre.

FIRST GERMAN
SHIP AT NEW YORK
SINCE JULY, 1914

New York, Nov. 4.—The first merchant steamship flying the German flag to come into the port of New York since July, 1914, arrived here to-day.

The vessel, the arrival of which marks the resumption of trade with Germany under the flag of that country, is the Schiffe Rickmers, a steamship of 4,462 tons built in Germany during the war. She is flying the old German merchant marine flag.

She is assigned to the Kerr SS. Company as American agent. The ship is in ballast and will take cargo here for the return voyage.

Three Fine Liners Building In Japan From Katori Design

Captain M. Yoshikawa Says That Work Has Been Commenced on New Ships; Proposal to Construct "Super Empresses" Abandoned in Favor of More Economical Boats.

Three large passenger and freight liners designed after the Katori Maru type are being built at the Mitsu Bishi dockyard at Nagasaki to the order of the Nippon Yusen Kaisha, premier Japanese steamship corporation, according to Captain M. Yoshikawa, commander of the liner Katori Maru, in port yesterday afternoon from the Far East.

After due consideration the officials of the Nippon Yusen Kaisha decided that vessels of approximately 10,000 tons gross and 20,000 tons displacement were the most suitable for trade requirements and orders were accordingly placed for three vessels which in general design will be the duplicate of the Katori Maru.

Much has been said about the plans of the N. Y. K. company to build three "Super Empresses" to develop a speed of 25 knots, but according to Captain Yoshikawa, this plan was ultimately abandoned.

Huge Carrier Gone.
The day of the giant passenger carrier is over, said Captain Yoshikawa, "and it is now the policy of the world's steamship companies to build vessels that can be more economically operated."

The master of the Katori Maru was unable to say on what route the new liners would be operated when completed, but he is generally acknowledged to be the ocean upon which the fight for trade supremacy will be waged; there is hardly any doubt but that the new Japanese passenger and freight-carriers will be pressed into the trans-Pacific service.

The finest ships flying the Japanese flag are now operating in this ocean in the service between Oriental ports and Victoria, Seattle and San Francisco.

SHIP FLOATED WHEN FREIGHT LIGHTERED

S.S. Eastern Belle Was Ashore at Dungeness Bay But Short Time

Seattle, Nov. 4.—After part of her deckload had been lightened the stranded steamship Eastern Belle, which ran aground in Dungeness Bay Monday night, was successfully floated yesterday, the job being handled by the Washington Tug & Barge Company, of Seattle.

The vessel stuck in the mud and it is believed that she escaped damage. In response to a call from the General Steamship Corporation, which operates the vessel, Capt. J. C. Brownfield, manager of the Washington Tug & Barge Company, speeded from Seattle to the scene of the mishap, taking the company's full wrecking outfit with him, including a fleet of barges and the tug Samson, Daniel Kern, Monitor, Forest T. Crosby and Wasp.

An examination showing that the vessel could not be moved unless her load was lightened, Captain Brownfield immediately set to work removing enough of the deckload to give the required buoyancy. The United States Coast Guard tug Snohomish, which had arrived on the scene earlier in the day, having raced to the rescue from Port Angeles, stood by to give all assistance necessary.

The vessel ran aground one mile inside the Dungeness light. The weather was hazy along the shore and this is believed to have been responsible for the ship losing her course.

The Eastern Belle loaded 500,000 feet of lumber in Tacoma and then came to Seattle and loaded 1,300,000 feet at the Stimson mill in Salmon Bay. She sailed Monday noon. Her cargo is being exported by the American Export Lumber Company for delivery to the Bahamas-Cuban Company in Nipe and Neuvitas, Cuba. The Bahamas-Cuban Com-

Honest Advertising.

THIS is a topic we all hear now-a-days because so many people are inclined to exaggerate. Yet has any physician told you that we claimed unreasonable remedial properties for Fletcher's Castoria? Just ask them. We won't answer it ourselves, we know what the answer will be.

That it has all the virtues to-day that was claimed for it in its early days is to be found in its increased use, the recommendation by prominent physicians, and our assurance that its standard will be maintained.

Fletcher's Castoria is strictly a remedy for Infants and Children. Honestly advertised as such, without a claim for more than its over 30 years of use have amply proven. A Baby's remedy for Babies. And not an adult's remedy for all the family and all the ails that human flesh is heir to.

Special Care of Baby.

That Baby should have a bed of its own all are agreed. Yet it is more reasonable for an infant to sleep with grown-ups than to use a man's medicine in an attempt to regulate the delicate organism of that same infant. Either practice is to be shunned. Neither would be tolerated by specialists in children's diseases.

Your Physician will tell you that Baby's medicine must be prepared with even greater care than Baby's food.

A Baby's stomach when in good health is too often disarranged by improper food. Could you for a moment, then, think of giving to your ailing child anything but a medicine especially prepared for infants and children? Don't be deceived.

Make a mental note of this:—It is important, Mothers, that you should remember that to function well, the digestive organs of your Baby must receive special care. No Baby is so abnormal that the desired results may be had from the use of medicines primarily prepared for grown-ups.

Bowlers Are Anxious to Secure Larger Grounds

Great Interest Taken in Lawn Bowling This Year Shows Need of Bigger Greens; Smoker To-morrow Night

More bowling green space is wanted in this city. The present green at Beacon Hill, which is the scene of the activities of the Victoria Lawn Bowling Club, has been found too small. During the winter it is probable that some steps will be taken to secure additional grounds so that all bowlers in the city who wish to play may do so and that large meets with outside teams may be held in the future.

The 1920 season of the Victoria Club has concluded and proved the most successful in the history of the organization. The membership increased tremendously and the green was in constant use throughout the summer and fall. The need of additional ground was constantly before the club, and it is hoped that this winter arrangements will be made to see that the matter is remedied. One of the officials of the Club stated this morning that next season there would likely be a waiting list for those desiring to join the club unless larger grounds were secured.

Finish With Smoker.
The bowlers are to finish the season with a smoker at the Douglas Hotel on Friday evening, commencing at 8.30 o'clock. All members and friends are invited to attend. Hon. John Oliver, honorary president of the club, has been invited to attend, and if in the city will be present.

Five challenge cups and medals will be presented to the winners of various tournaments held in the city during the summer.

A large number of Vancouver bowlers are coming over for the affair, which promises to be a very enjoyable affair. A very interesting programme is being prepared.

Were Very Successful.
The Victoria club has been able to place in competition a very formidable team of bowlers. In the inter-city

WILL TRY TO LEAD VANCOUVER TO TOP OF HOCKEY PILE THIS SEASON

Signed again to pilot the Vancouver Millionaires in the Pacific Coast Hockey Association race, Lloyd Cook, who probably will be the only playing manager remaining in the ice sport this season, at least on the Coast, unless Lester Patrick, the grizzled Victoria veteran, decides to don the togs again. The Vancouver pilot, at one time a member of the famous Taber Cooks, a hockey team of Taber, Alberta, which included seven players of the same name, and 'tis said, all of the same family, in stowing away farm apparatus up on his Alberta tract, and after a successful season in the wheat fields, is preparing to hike to the Coast for the coming hockey campaign. Cook, one of the most reliable defence men in the game, proved a capable leader last season, his first year in the role of manager. Cook has been in senior hockey for many years, and with the exception of one season spent in Spokane when the Canucks were in the P. C. H. A., has always played with Vancouver. The off season he spends on the farm in Alberta leading the simple life.

WILLARD HAS CHANCE TO WIN BACK CROWN

Montreal, Nov. 4.—Jack Dempsey, world's heavyweight champion, announced here yesterday that he had agreed to a fifteen-round bout with Jess Willard, ex-world's champion, to take place next March 17.

The location of the fight, he said, had not yet been decided.

DEMPSEY FLOORS HIS OPPONENT AT QUEBEC

Quebec, Nov. 4.—Jack Dempsey, the world's heavyweight champion, made his bow here last night to Quebec boxing fans in a six-round sparring match with his partner, Bill Tait. He floored his opponent in the fourth round.

DUNCAN BASKETBALLERS OPEN SEASON WITH WIN

Duncan, Nov. 4.—With the home team carrying off a decisive victory the basketball season was opened here Tuesday night, when the local quintette defeated Shawinigan Lake by a score of 21 to 9.

Judging from the support given by the public and the class of ball handed out last night, the basketball season has a most promising outlook. Charlie French is a valuable acquisition to the local club. He has played on crack teams in Chicago and shows himself a past master of the game, and with such material as Eddie Rutledge, Eddie Evans, Leo Barnett and Albert Evans, who have already proved their worth in past seasons, Duncan can look forward to annexing a good chain of victories.

LOS ANGELES AFTER 1924 OLYMPIC GAMES

Southern Centre Making a Strong Bid Against Rome, Roumania and Egypt

Los Angeles, Nov. 4.—Los Angeles still has a splendid chance to secure the Olympic for 1924, says Bob Weaver, president of the Southern Pacific branch of the Amateur Athletic Union, who returned last week from New York, where he spent two weeks on his return from Antwerp, going over and checking up the expenditures of the American Olympic committee in this country and Europe.

The matter will be decided at Zurich, Switzerland, this month. Had it come to a vote of the international committee, which Weaver says is international in name only, during the gathering in Antwerp, this city would have secured the plum. Rome wants the meet, and Roumania and Egypt have put in bids for it, but Los Angeles has the support of the leading nations, according to Weaver.

Rome Is Out.
Rome, however, is almost out of the question. The heat there in the summer time is unbearable, and a meet held in the spring would not attract the American college athletes, because they couldn't get away.

Everything, of course, says Weaver, depends on the city's putting across the bond project for building a gigantic stadium on the Exposition Park site.

BAYS HOLDING FIRST DANCE THIS EVENING

An invitation dance is being held this evening at the Connaught Seamen's Institute by the J. B. A. A. This is the first of a series of dances which the association proposes to hold during the winter. Dancing will commence at 8 o'clock and continue until 11.30 o'clock.

IN THE SQUARE CIRCLE

Portland, Ore., Nov. 4.—Joe Gorman, Portland featherweight, won a ten-round decision over Jack Davis of Oakland in a hard fought battle here last night. For the first three rounds it looked as though Gorman would win, but by the time the seventh was reached the situation was an upset. Only the fact that Gorman hit Davis (two to one) punches earned him the decision as the Oakland boy was the aggressor and landed hard.

Ole Anderson, Tacoma heavyweight, knocked out Leo Cross, of Portland in the tenth round of their scheduled ten-round fight with a left hook to the chin.

Kid Palmer, of Los Angeles, was awarded the decision over Jimmy Darcy, Portland, at the end of ten rounds.

Joe Sutherland, Los Angeles, light-weight and Al Nelson, of Boise, fought a four-round draw in the curtain raiser.

Saskatoon, Nov. 4.—Johnny McIntyre gained a technical knockout over "Kid Burns" of Calgary, here last night in the seventh round of a scheduled 15-round bout.

JAP WRESTLER QUIT AFTER TWO-HOUR GO

Vancouver, Nov. 4.—After putting up a wonderful exhibition for two hours in his bout with Ted Thye, of Spokane, here last night, Taro Miyake, the Japanese grappler, refused to continue and Thye was awarded the match. Up to this time neither wrestler had obtained a fall. It was a splendid exhibition. Thye was seldom in danger, of he had the Jap in hot water continually.

NEW YACHT RACE IS SUGGESTED BY YANKS

London, Nov. 4.—Paul Hammond, of New York; Guy Lowell, of Boston; Paul Drexel, of Philadelphia; and E. Stewart, of New York, have challenged British yachtmen to a sailing race, which, it is hoped, will become an annual event, says The Daily Mail. It has been suggested, according to the newspaper, that the first race will be held in British waters next summer, and thereafter alternately in the United States and British waters.

Plans Ready for 14-Storey Structure, Which Will Cost $2,400,000; Will Have Largest Swimming Tank on Continent

Toronto, Nov. 4.—As a culmination of three months' work in studying the leading athletic clubs in the United States and Canada, and selecting a Toronto site, the 100 charter members of the York County Athletic Club, which is now erecting a four-story clubhouse at the corner of Bay and Temperance Streets, have completed their organization, with the result that the plans for this gigantic project are now well under way.

One of the features is a swimming tank, which is to be one of the few indoor tanks in America in which world's championship events can be held. This tank will be considerably larger, H. P. Williams, father of the scheme, points out, than that in the renowned Detroit Athletic Club, which, Weaver says, is intended to answer the purposes it is intended for. Spacious accommodation will be allotted to bowling alleys, handball and squash courts, indoor golf course, a boxing room, a boxing auditorium, showers, Russian and Turkish baths, card rooms and a billiard room. The building will include a floor of up-to-date bedrooms, dining-rooms, a grill, a roof garden and a ballroom. There will be ladies' and juniors' privileges, the gymnasium and swimming tank being turned over for their use during certain hours.

For Good of Canadians.
"It will be a means of carrying the names of Toronto sportsmen all over the world, and winning some trophies," says Mr. Williams. "Competition builds fraternity, and a man who uses this kind of a club is the better for it. It is sponsored by Canadians only."

Three thousand members will be accepted, and of these there will be six classes: First, the honorary members, who will pay no fee; the life members, for whom the fee at the beginning of the club will be $1,000, to be increased as the membership grows; the resident members, who will at the outset be charged $200; non-resident members, whose fee will be $100, with annual dues amounting to $50; members from the regular army and navy and the clergy to be admitted by courtesy of the directors at a charge of $50 a year; and lastly, an associated membership of women, limited to 400, to pay $50 a year each.

The Prince of Wales has already accepted an honorary membership, and it is expected that before long the club will be strong enough to offer one to King George.

A Sporting Palace.

To carry on the work of purchasing the property and constructing and furnishing the club it is estimated that there will be a gross capital of $2,400,000 on hand. Of this $1,450,000 will be derived from membership fees alone, while the remainder will come from a first mortgage bond issue. It was pointed out that a second mortgage of $400,000 could easily be raised, but it is not expected that this will be done. The principal items in the cost will be $368,000 for the property, $1,842,000 for the erection of the building and $400,000 for the interior furnishings.

Elwood Hughes, director of athletics at the National Exhibition, speaks of the value of such a club from a sporting standpoint. He traced the development of amateur sport in Canada since the Olympic revival, and enumerated some of the difficulties which Canadian sportsmen had had to contend with.

"Toronto," he said, "is a good sporting city—the best I may say, on the American continent. She has risen to this position with very little encouragement. This club will establish her firmly on the sporting map and is the only thing that will meet the existing needs. There is plenty of the material that champions are made of in Toronto, and all it needs is encouragement and proper coaching."

V.I.A.A. ATHLETES TO TRAIN TO-NIGHT

All members of the rugby and gymnastic squad of the V. I. A. A. are requested to be present at the Victoria West gymnasium at 7.45 o'clock this evening for a work-out. All members of the various rugby teams are invited to attend in order to get some practice before Saturday.

VARIETY

Mary Pickford in her forthcoming production for United Artists, "Suds," has as usual surrounded herself with a cast of unusual talent and spared neither time nor money in securing players exactly suited to the roles. This production will be the feature at the Variety Theatre again to-day. Prominent in her support is Miss Rose Dione, for a long time one of the leading members of Sarah Bernhardt's company in Paris, and who since the outbreak of the war has appeared in French dramas at the French Theatre in New York, and more recently came to California to appear in the silent art. Mme. Dione's screen debut was in "The Secret Garden," and recently she appeared in "The Luck of the Irish." Mme. Dione is as yet unable to speak fluent English, which makes her especially suitable for the role of the excitable French proprietress of the hand laundry in the slums of London, where Mary, as Amanda Affick, is the star.

COMEDY-DRAMA NOW

PLAYING AT PRINCESS

Clever Three-Act Play Shows Mildred Page Players in Entertaining Light

"Her Own Money," the comedy-drama in three acts that is being produced by the Mildred Page Players this week is something distinctly novel in the repertoire of the local players. It is primarily a comedy, but has some dramatic actions in the piece that lend a variety of scope to the principals to show their metal. The story of "Her Own Money" deals principally with the problem of the division of income between married couples, and has a solution to offer to that delicate project. In all three different couples are seen on the stage, two being subsidiary and the complement of the principals. Carrying the main action of the piece, Miss Page plays a highly emotional role with success, and is seen to advantage in the second act. Playing the opposite role, Thomas Sullivan presents a dignified front to an exasperating chain of circumstances, and embodies a little from his habitual stiffness. Byron Alden and Miss Guilbert take the roles of the newly-engaged couple and have a very effective hold of most of the comedy in the piece, in which they are aided to no mean extent by Arthur Elton and Miss Alice Round, who as Mr. and Mrs. Beecher, are screamingly funny in their parts.

Miss Genevieve Berkeley as Rhoda, and colored maid completes the cast, that has evidently been chosen to give each part most suited to their individual talent.

In the action of the piece the quarrelsome Beechers supply many a laugh, and the outburst of the War Round and Arthur Elton came in for warm appreciation at the hands of the audience. At the close of the second act Mr. Alden made a plea for greater support on the part of the theatre-going public and warned his hearers that the stock company would not either be able to keep up to the mark or even to carry the load unless the support granted became very much more extensive. The last act is worthy of special mention for its farmyard scene, which live chickens play an audible part.

ROYAL VICTORIA

Based chiefly upon a question of scientific phenomena, the Royal Theatre describes "Go and Get It." Marshall Neilan's latest production made under his six-figure contract with Associated First National Pictures, as "the most remarkable thought ever introduced into a photoplay."

"The Times" arrives at this conclusion after the review of "Go and Get It." The chief point of the picture is a question of whether the transplanting of human organs into the bodies of animals is possible so far as the natural functioning of those organs is concerned. In the case of "Go and Get It," a famous surgeon made an experiment that results in astounding thrills that equal anything ever conceived by the writers of the old school.

"Go and Get It" takes its name from the newspaper atmosphere in which the story is set. The natural unravelling of the plot is brought about by an energetic reporter who discovers that a giant gorilla has been chloroformed and subjected to an operation involving the removal of his brain.

MAY ALLISON

NOW AT DOMINION

Screen Star, in "The Cheater," on Stage Before Turning to Pictures

May Allison, the beautiful Screen Classics, Inc. star, who is now at the Dominion Theatre in "The Cheater," admits that she really was considerably flustered when she took her first actual step toward becoming an actress. She had come from her native Southland to New York with no professional experience, with only her smile, her spun-gold, sunny hair, a soprano voice with the witchery of real melody in it and confidence.

The confidence disappeared suddenly when she presented herself in Henry W. Savage's office and asked for a job. She was asked in return for her name. Several trick stage names, prepared with much deliberation at boarding school, were on the tip of her tongue—Clarice, Van Alstyne, Gwendolyn De Reszke, and the like. But when the manager came bluntly with the question, the little blonde girl said:

"May Allison."

She got the job—the part of "Vanity" in the morality play, "Everywoman." Later she was given the part of "Beauty" in the same production. The following season found her alternating with Ina Claire in the title role of "The Quaker Girl." A prominent part in De Wolf Hopper's musical comedy a year later, "Miss Caprice," and still another season later the star role in "Apartment 12-K" were evidence of her making good was quite justified.

Then came the plunge into pictures. First with William H. Crane in "David Harum," a Famous Players production. After a season on the stage again, with Edith Wynne Mathison in "The Governor's Lady," Miss Allison was made a star in American Mutual productions. During the making of one of these, "The House of a Thousand Scandals," the little blonde girl from Georgia met Harold Lockwood. Together they arranged to co-star in Metro productions. The success of this screen combination was marked—"The River of Romance," "Pigskin Island," "The Masked Rider," "The Come-Back," "Mister 44," and "Big Tremaine."

The first picture in which Miss Allison became a Metro star in her own right was "Social Hypocrites." Since then, before being presented in Screen Classics, Inc. specials, she scored a series of successes in "In For Thirty Days," "Peggy Does Her Darndest," "Castles in the Air," "Almost Married" and "The Uplifters," among others.

The first of Miss Allison's Screen Classics, Inc. specials was a picturization of Avery Hopwood's hilarious farce, "Foul and Warmer," presented on the stage by Selwyn and Company. This was followed by "The Walk-Offs," the Oliver Morosco stage success by Frederick and Fanny Hatton.

DISEASES WHICH ARE RELIEVED BY HERBS

Nature Provides Specific Remedy For Long List of Complaints

Sufferers from Rheumatism in every form, Asthma and kindred complaints, Indigestion and Stomach trouble, Kidney and Bladder complaints, Piles, Skin diseases, etc., will be interested to know that herbs are to be found specific properties which afford a promise of relief for these diseases. No sufferer from such complaints can afford to pass over the simple but wonderful power of herbs, especially when this form of treatment has been tried for years and been successful in thousands of cases.

The herb remedy which has accomplished such wonderful results is sold under the name of Wonder Health Restorer. It is prepared on the prescription of one of the world's greatest herbalists and is guaranteed to contain no alcohol or drug of any kind. Its action on the system is purely natural through the purification and revitalization of the blood and the ministrations to affected organs through the blood flow of herbal properties which Nature designed for the specific correction of disease of the part.

A full explanation of Wonder Health Restorer, its discovery and the manner in which it does its work has been compiled in "The Road to Health," a booklet which the reader can obtain from almost any druggist. The booklet clinches the whole matter by giving letter after letter from those who have used it. Get a copy of this booklet—it is a revelation to people who do not understand the real worth of herb remedies.

Wonder Health Restorer may be obtained in Victoria at Ivel's Pharmacy, Clearhues Drug Store, Relley's Drug Store, Merryfield & Duck (all stores), and the Fernwood Pharmacy; in Esquimalt at Lang's Drug Store and at most drug stores throughout the Province. If your druggist can't supply you, send direct to the W. Y. McCarter-Burr Co., Ltd., 604 Hilda Avenue, Victoria. (Phone 6950).

GOOD VAUDEVILLE

SEEN AT PANTAGES

Screen's Youngest Emotional Star and Clever Aerial Features Appeal This Week

Six vaudeville acts of exceptional merit comprise the current offering at the Pantages playhouse. One of the most conspicuous features of the show is the appearance of Virginia Lee Corbin, the "Screen's Youngest Emotional Star," a charming little personality who sings and dances herself into popular favor and displays remarkable talent in her interpretation of character sketches. Virginia has been featured in such screen productions as "Aladdin and His Wonderful Lamp," "Babe in the Wood," "Jack and the Beanstalk," and "Treasure Island," and is one of the foremost of the juvenile element appearing in film roles. Virginia stages a dainty act that will strongly appeal to the majority of vaudeville devotees.

The headline attraction is presented by the Powell Troupe in the performance of some phenomenal tight wire feats which are both daring and clever. There is a quintette of performers who display amazing agility on double tight wires. One member of the troupe executes back somersaults that are really thrilling and comedy contortion stunts are introduced.

Exceptional ability is shown by the ladies in dancing on the wire. The performance measures right up to the advance notices and will prove a big drawing card at the remaining shows.

In the opening number B. Lohmuller presents the "Girl in the Air," with May Lormer featured as the sensational aerial singing artist. This is an uncommon and acceptable act.

A clever musical act is put on by Devore and Taylor, one a soprano and the other a violinist.

The offering leaves nothing to be desired and incidentally the girls wear some fetching gowns. Four boys and two girls appear in the W. W. Wolf offering "Melody of Youth," in which some good singing and dancing is offered. The youngsters create a very favorable impression. Austin and Delaney, also black-face artists and make a good team with their eccentric dancing and novel instrumental numbers.

The eleventh episode of "Trailed by Three" provides all the thrills of the remarkable film serial now showing on the Pantages screen.

SUPERB DE MILLE PRODUCTION—NEXT WEEK AT DOMINION

Gloria Swanson, who had the leading feminine role opposite Elliott Dexter in "For Better, for Worse," appears in a similar capacity in "Something to Think About," the new Cecil B. DeMille Paramount picture which will come to the Dominion Theatre next week. During this past year this talented artist has won many admirers by her splendid acting in "Male and Female" and "Why Change Your Wife?" Elliott Dexter has the leading male role.

Theodore Roberts, veteran Paramount character, has one of the most difficult parts of his screen career in the part of Luke Anderson, the stern father who blinds himself in a fit of rage. Rouge, gambler of the 20th century, and speed driver in his many varied roles, Mr. Roberts declares that the part of Luke represents the hardest work he ever did in his life, necessitating as it did a study of all the characteristics peculiar to sightless men.

Others in the cast are Monte Blue, who has an important supporting part, Claire McDowell, Mickey Moore, Julia Faye, James Mason, Theodore Kosloff, and Togi Yamamoto. "Something to Think About" is an original story by Jeanie Macpherson, who was responsible for "Old Wives"

BREAKS DOWN
WHEN ADMONISHED
BY MAGISTRATE

Lenient View is Taken of Mrs.
Piton's Bigamy; Liable to Seven Years

Mrs. Nellie M. Piton, charged with bigamy, was to-day released on suspended sentence after a warning from Magistrate Jay that in the event of a further charge the suspended sentence could not be countenanced a second time, and imprisonment would have to be imposed.

In his judgment Magistrate Jay warned the accused against treading along the same path that had previously led her into this trouble, and told her to change her ways for the sake of her child. If any influence worked upon the mind of the child to its detriment it would be the fault of the mother, and the object in allowing the accused her liberty under this section would have been defeated. "Perhaps your husband has been as much to blame as you, but your past has not been all that it should be, and let me say this to you, in the future live for your child.

I hope you will take to heart all I have said to you, and remember suspended sentence can only be granted once."

The accused broke down under the admonition from the court and was led away.

months. The Ladies' Musical Club, who are instrumental in bringing Moiseiwitsch to this city were largely guided in their momentous decision by the glowing accounts of his artistry given by Victorians who had the privilege of hearing him in London during the war, when he burst meteor-like on the musical firmament, leaving a blaze of glory in his trail.

Mrs. Hermann Robertson, a former president of the Club, was so much impressed by his performances in London during the war, that she availed herself of every opportunity of hearing him. His success was so extraordinary that at that time it was necessary to book months ahead in order to insure getting a seat, so popular were his recitals.
Music lovers will thus be interested to learn that the critiques of this "giant among pianists" are confirmed by those who have had the pleasure of hearing him play.

His debut was made at the Town

Hall, Reading, England, on October
1, 1908, when he played works by Bach, Schumann, Liszt, etc., and he first appeared in London at Queen's Hall in November, 1909.

The public has always been enthusiastic to a degree when he appears, as he has done, at all the leading Symphony Concerts in London, including those of the Queen's Hall Orchestra, under Sir Henry J.
Wood, and the London Symphony Orchestra, under Nikisch, Sir Edward Elgar, Sir Frederick Cowen,
Sir Thomas Beecham, and the Russian conductor, Wassili Safonoff, and Emil Mylnarski. He has also played with the New Symphony Orchestra under Mr. Landon Ronald.

He gave over fifty pianoforte recitals in England, all typified by pianoforte playing of so artistic an order; so sensitive to rare lyrical or noble passages, so temperamental and grand in treatment of old masters and modern composers alike, that it is no wonder that at the age of twenty-nine he holds a unique position as an interpretative artist, and is famous and admired by all those who appreciate and understand serious pianoforte playing.

STUDENTS' RECITAL

Fine Program Given by Pupils of Columbia School of Music
Monday.

The pupils who gave the monthly recital at the Columbia School of Music gave a very excellent programme
Monday evening. Mr. Heard's rendering of "Rondo Capriccio" showed much talent and gained him deserved applause. Miss Eva Howard's playing of "Sonata Pathetique" was a clever performance and gave much pleasure to the large audience.
Miss Mathews, who possesses a very sweet voice, was heard in "The Star"
and again in "Curo Mio Ben." Mrs.
Adams sang "The Swallows," and Miss Cook "Garden of Roses," both items being much enjoyed. J. P. Glen, who is the owner of a fine old violin, had to appear a second time.
The rest of the programme showed much cleverness and excellent training. Mrs. Burdon-Murphy announces that next month's recital will be put on by the junior pupils.

Monday's programme was as follows:
Piano solo—"Valse".....Godard

WILL SEARCH ASIA FOR MISSING LINK

The National History Museum
Plans Expedition to Add to Collection

New York, Nov. 4.—Whether the missing link may be found between ape and man, for whose search, as announced, the Museum of Natural History will soon send to Asia a group of scientists on a five-year's commission, with $250,000 for expenses the museum is hopeful of results equally important. It is expected that before the return of the expedition the city will add to the museum buildings a Hall of Asiatic Life, on the prospect that the greatest natural history collections the world has ever seen will come out of Asia to fill it. Heretofore serious students of Asiatic zoology had recourse only to the British Museum in London. It is said the collections assured from the missing-link expedition will make New York the centre of Asiatic scientific activity.

As to the work ahead of the prospective collections, a summary issued by the museum says:

Difficulties in the Way.

"One of the reasons why little is known of the fossils of China and interior of Asia is that material of the sort is of considerable value to the Chinese. Fossils are supposed to yield wonderful medicinal qualities."

CANADIAN NATIONAL RAILWAYS

With the new time table which took effect on the co-ordinated lines of the Canadian National Grand Trunk Pacific Railways on Sunday, October 16, very much improved service is afforded the travelling public. New trains have been placed in operation over the co-ordinated lines, not only on the main lines but also on local lines. New and improved service is being inaugurated between Western and Eastern Canada, giving a daily service between Vancouver and all Eastern points, through trains being operated both to Toronto and Montreal.

Through Standard Sleeping Cars between Vancouver and Montreal are being operated in conjunction with this new service.

New folders are available to the public and may be obtained at our ticket office, 623 Fort Street, or 900 Wharf Street.

TENDER GUMS —A WARNING

Beware of gum tenderness that warns of Pycorrhoea. Four out of five people over forty have Pycorrhoea—many under forty also. Loosening teeth indicate Pycorrhoea. Bleeding gums, too, Remember—these inflamed, bleeding gums act as so many doorways for disease germs to enter the system—inflicting the joints or tonsils—or causing other ailments.

Forhan's positively prevents Pycorrhoea, if used in time and used consistently. As it hardens the gums the teeth become firmer.

Brush your teeth with Forhan's. It cleans the teeth scientifically—keeps them white and clean.

If gum-shrinkage has already set in, start using Forhan's and consult a dentist immediately for special treatment.

DESPITE DEPRESSION INDUSTRY IS SOUND

New York, Nov. 4.—The automotive industry is changing from high to low speed. But it is not applying the brakes. It is merely easing up on the accelerator, that a sharp turn ahead can be made without skidding. The industry is swinging around into its next great economic stage—that of fundamental, nation-wide utility as an essential part of the country's transportation system.

The industry was made safe at the unprecedented speed which the industry was making six months ago. It was over-stimulated, over-produced, over-sold. To-day it is getting back to normalcy.

A judicious slowing-up is averting the job and crash that would be brought on by a sudden and violent application of the emergency brake.

When the auto was in on high speed of the armistice, the pent-up orders of two years were in on high speed.

1919 Set Record

Production schedules in the automotive factories were immediately projected for 1919 on the basis of this abnormal demand.

In the calendar year 1919 the record breaking total of 1,974,016 passenger automobiles and motor trucks was produced. Even greater schedules were set for 1920.

All along the line this expansion program was met by increased credit requirements, increasing demands for railroad transportation, for raw materials, for money and for labor at a time when all these basic elements were scarce.

Owing to railroad difficulties and strikes, it became increasingly difficult to make deliveries; orders were pyramided and overlapped; inventories were unbalanced, and the pressure for credit accommodations to finance this abnormal development grew more acute.

Banks Gave First Warning.

From the banks came the first warning signal.

The abnormal condition had brought into the automotive industry a new element—bankruptcy. On the one hand, the banks were unable to handle the orders which the older units could not meet. They were the first to get hit when the credit requirements began to pile up.

Soon the mighty production schedules and expansion programmes were translated into deliveries; almost imperceptibly at first supply began to drop and demand to rise.

The automotive industry refused to accept the inevitable—until Henry Ford dramatized the law of supply and demand by his now historic price-cutting on one week or two.

The price-cutting was a blow to the other automotive manufacturers, including at least one who said such action was utterly out of the question, followed his lead and reduced, others even going so far as to slash.

Cut to 35 Per Cent Now.

In July the industry was working on a 45 per cent basis in relation to its original 1920 production schedules, which were designed to surpass the 1919 figures by almost 250,000 cars and trucks. This percentage has been decreasing since July, until it is down lower than 50—some estimates running as low as 35. Deflation is a real thing to the automotive industry.

Orders have already been stimulated somewhat by the reduction in prices.

But the significant thing is that the readjustment is under way, and it is orderly. There have been a few embarrassments in the industry that reached the stage of receivership or bankruptcy, but they are minor in character, with one or two exceptions.

It is true that payments throughout the field are slow, and at the present moment give no immediate prospects of strong improvement. By and large, however, the readjustment has been effected without affecting the fundamental bulwarks of the industry.

Weeding Out Weak Ones.

Close students of the industry—the captains who direct its financial and manufacturing destinies—are not alarmed by the readjustment. They are of the opinion that the readjustment will be large with about nine million automobiles now in use, plus the healthy demand for new cars and trucks. On this foundation legitimate expansion along sane lines can be safely projected.

Based on these factors, a period of genuine prosperity and firmness for the automotive industry seems assured.

WOMEN CAN FORTIFY THEIR HEALTH

With constantly aching backs weary dragging-down pains, dizzy and nervous headaches, women have a hard burden to carry. It is wise for every woman to fortify herself against these derangements which are present when extra demands are made upon the system by Nature's laws. No better remedy exists for woman's peculiar ailments than Dr. HAMILTON'S PILLS, which possess tonic properties that act upon the proper organs at the proper time. To prevent these derangements, draggish, weariness, backache, nervousness and pallor, to look well, sleep well, eat well and enjoy the manifold blessings of sound, regular health, every girl and woman should regulate her system by Dr. Hamilton's Pills, 25c per box.

BEARS ACTIVE ON CHICAGO MARKET

(By Burdick Brothers, Ltd.)

Chicago, Nov. 4.—The grain market was a very weak affair to-day and much lower prices were witnessed. From the start selling was freely indulged in by traders who are pessimistic as to the outlook of grain. Very little buying was in evidence and no rallies of more than a cent occurred at any time during the session. No news of importance.

Nanaimo: To draw upon the experience of Kamloops, where a manager has been conducting municipal business, was the decision of the City Council Monday evening, when Alderman Hart again brought up the question of a city manager. The alderman maintained that the work of a municipality, from bookkeeping to engineering, could be done by a competent man.

FORMER CITY MEMBER PASSES AT RIPE AGE: EDGAR CROW BAKER

With a record of nearly fifty years public service in the community, during which he was successively a member of the City Council and of the Federal Parliament, Edgar Crow Baker died last evening at his residence, Gorge Road at the ripe age of seventy-six years. Although he had been in failing health for some time, the end came in the nature of a great shock to his many friends, for the late Mr. Crow Baker had retained his faculties in remarkable degree. Besides his widow he leaves a brother residing in Nelson, whose arrival is awaited before funeral arrangements can be completed.

Began in Navy.

Edgar Crow Baker was the third son of Edward William Whitley Baker, of Liscaud Park, Cheshire, England. He was born September 16, 1845, at Lambeth, Surrey, England, springing from an old English family that traces its descent from 1310. He was educated at the Royal Hospital School, Greenwich, and in 1869 obtained nomination by competition into the Royal Navy as master's assistant (now styled navigating midshipman), having held the first place in the first class nautical examination and passed with honors at the head of a class of 400 competitors at the general examination, winning the first prize in mathematics, navigation, nautical astronomy and Scripture history, and on passing final test examination at the Royal Naval College, Portsmouth, was awarded the silver medal and thirty-five guineas in coin, also fifteen guineas worth of nautical instruments and books.

He was then appointed to H. M. S. Victory, but was transferred to the Rolla, a ten-gun sailing brig, in which he continued until the Spring of 1867, when he was appointed to H. M. S. Cygnet, on the North American and West Indian stations, and was present at the bombardment of the Haytian capital when H. M. S. Bulldog was lost. He also landed with the Naval Brigade at the Jamaica insurrection, 1865. He went up the Mississippi River in H. M. S. Cygnet to protect British interests, and was sent away as prize officer in 1869 in charge of the ship Dalhousie, of Glasgow, saved by the Cygnet in the Straits of Belle Isle, and navigated her thence to St. John's, Newfoundland.

Served in Fenian Raid.

He was paid off from the Cygnet at Halifax, in October, 1864, and joined H. M. S. Duncan, flagship of Vice-Admiral Sir James Hope, C. C. B., a ninety-one-gun line-of-battle ship, on the same station. During the Fenian trouble in the 60's he took troops to St. Andrew, Bay of Fundy, and landed for service with the Naval Brigade. He passed his examination, receiving first class certificates, and obtained his first commission as navigating sub-lieutenant September 11, 1865.

Returning to England in June, 1867, he obtained a first class certificate in his examination before the Ruler Brethren of the Trinity House as a Channel pilot for H. M. frigates. Subsequently he served in H. M. S. Fox in the transportation of boilers and machinery from the various dockyards in the United Kingdom for three years. Afterwards Mr. Crow Baker served in H. M. S. Cockatrice as naval sub-lieutenant in charge up the Mediterranean and the River Danube, enforcing the rules of the European Commission, and during this time made a survey of St. George's Channel, the River Danube and several places where grain vessels had been sunk. He had been granted his lieutenant's commission August 9, 1870.

Returned to England.

He returned to England across the continent, and remained on half pay until March, 1872, when he was appointed to H.M.S. Royal Alfred, as navigating lieutenant, then to H.M.S. Sirius, in the West Indies, but he exchanged into H.M.S. Niobe, and took that vessel from Bermuda to Halifax, and thence to various ports in Prince Edward Island, Newfoundland, and the Gulf of St. Lawrence, protecting the fisheries. At his own request he again went on half pay in September, 1872. He served for six months on the Board of Examiners of Masters and Mates, when he was superseded by a political nominee.
